"Give me my flowers ^{now} ~~while I live~~."

Give me my flowers while I ^{am} living while ~~you~~ do you hold them till I am dead, Then you'll bring your beautiful roses and bank them at my feet and head.

You'll pile them high and Call me blessed, when I've crossed The swelling tide, when I'm gone on home to glory over on the other side.

Give them now when I can smell them, while I wag my heavy load Then they will help me bear my burden on this lonely rugged road

"Give me my Flowers now."

Don't wait until my days are finished and my work is ended here, then you place your beautiful lillies on an easel at my bier.

No not then, but while I am living, while my hands are on the plow, while I'm hitched up in the harness, please give me my flowers now.
