It's Truly a Sign of the Times

Of course there are no real mountains in Buffalo, at least not during the summer.

However, with all the snow piled up all over the place now, there are some snow mountains high enough to make one wonder if a Sherpa guide is needed to get to the top.

Some hardy citizen placed this sign on a huge snow mound behind Memorial Auditorium. Framed between its legs (one of which is broken) is Buffalo City Hall.

There might be a polar explorer of sorts in the city, because there is an identical "Mt. Buffalo" sign on a snow mound on Franklin St., between Edward and Virginia Sts.
