THE SENIOR YEAR BOOK

BUFFALO STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE

Foreword

This is the first issue of The Elms to be presented to the students and friends of the State Teachers College at Buffalo since the addition of our fourth year course. We hope it will be worthy of the place it occupies. The 1927 Staff is proud to be first to greet the candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education and to congratulate the school on the past year's achievements.

To love boys and girls and to bid them welcome to the blessings of the school room;

To inspire them with a love of knowledge, teach them the beauty of truth and make them responsive to the truth in beauty;

To instill a sense of responsibility without robbing them of the joy of play;

To lead them to take pride in the ideal without obscuring the desirability of the practical;

To make of each class room a training ground where the junior citizens of today may grow into worthy adult citizens of tomorrow.

This is the high mission for which we hope your Alma Mater has helped to prepare you!

Alma Mater

These halls of learning echo with the sound
Of countless presences by us unguessed;
And now with solemn thro' we join the rest,
Not knowing quite the goal to which we're bound,
But seeking e'er life's mysteries profound;
Then, if perchance we falter in the quest,
Our love for thee will hold us to the best—
May everlasting praise to thee redound!
Thy, in our last and fond farewell to thee,
There is a sorrow for the things we leave;
And yet, a thrill in facing life anew—
With truths we've learned from thee, a magic key
To open wide the gates we now perceive
May bring us joy and thee an honor due.

In Retrospect

The class of '27 has been privileged to witness and participate in unprecedented occasions throughout its senior year. Third Year Graduates of '26 returned for their fourth year to find a very notable addition of eight new faculty members, specially qualified to train for work of degree caliber. Students entering their third year found the courses of these newly acquired professors offered as electives and profited accordingly. The very beginnings of the year promised scholastic growth and stimulated interest.

Together with the new academic faculty members we welcomed the Dean of Women in the position of social advisor. Individuals, organizations, classes found they had acquired someone with whom individual and group problems might be discussed and solved. As a logical result of a healthy condition organizations flourished, the social life of the school assumed a new aspect.

To foster participation in activities and to exercise a developmental influence over them, the Social Program Committee came into being as successor to the Faculty Student Council. The work of the Committee assumed tangible form in the working out, inauguration, and enforcement of a point system to create a more popular participation and avoid a massing of responsibility in extra-curricular activities. Such thoughtful regulation had long been desirable and its successful promotion has been an outstanding achievement of the year.

Entering its second year, student government assumed a function as forum and crux of student self-regulation. The Central Council became coincidentally a representative assemblage and a representative mouth piece. To provide a carry over of Council business to the layman student brief section meetings were held on mornings following Council meetings with the section representative in the role of spokesman.

Decidedly, student control of student affairs had come to stay. We have obviously attained the maturity required for control by self. The present success of the Central Council is the merest hint at the possibilities it hold for development. Steps for the education of the student body at large in matters of its government have advanced to the point of being practical, that is, the point where students no longer imagine they are having something forced upon them by an invisible dictator.

School organizations have come very much to the fore in producing their worth while achievements for popular enjoyment and appreciation. Dramatic efforts culminated in an entirely delightful spring play. An assembly debate was the feature of that society which embraces the verbal athletics. Our Glee Clubs combined to present their very creditable performance of accomplishments. The Record has been a periodic stimulus and source of interest. Basketball in all its divisions of varsity and interclass obtained a fine representative participation, faculty included.

To make a fourth year of study possible for students financially restricted, there has been a most generous offering of scholarships. Both classes and sororities have encouraged the fourth year by generously offering such assistance. The bestowal of such aid is not an act of charity, but rather a direct move to assist individuals to the advanced work and its resulting benefits. These evidences of a building program for the growth of the fourth year are indicative of our readiness for that advanced training.

We have not only broadened our training scope by the inclusion of the fourth year and a Degree in Education. The year has brought the opportunity and means for an unlimited and boundless future. The legislative provision for a new school offers that long sought removal to a larger, more spacious, more desirable campus. We have thought of such relocation as eventual. The fact that it has become immediate is due to active and wholly successful efforts by men fundamentally concerned with the school's welfare.

Seemingly, the future of the school has been to such men a common cause—one which has brushed aside any barriers of prejudice or politics and brought about unison for the attainment of an end. Such attainment takes the form of our future campus, situated in a distinctive setting. That campus will be graced by a new college building specially designed and constructed to fit the particular needs we have felt in our present quarters. There will be provision for unparalleled progress and growth in those curricular and extra-curricular enterprises in which we have made such strides the past year. There is indeed a fine future, thoughts of which stimulate our already mounting eagerness to shape our destiny in that future.

To conclude a year full to bursting with the plums of accomplishment has come our change of name. Fittingly appropriate is it that in the closing days of a scholastic year which has seen such progress, we should take on the added dignity and increased status of a Teachers College.

The name indicates more than merited rank. It provides an incentive, something of which we may aspire to make the most. The confidence of the Regents as shown by the approval of our new name is a most fitting reward for the fine evidences of our advancement throughout the year. May each graduating class of the future have as fruitful a senior year to look back upon in retrospect.

MAP OF NEW NORMAL SCHOOL LOCATION AND VICINITY

History of the New School Project

On March 23, 1926, an Albany dispatch to the Buffalo press announced that State Architect, Sullivan Jones, Frank P. Graves, state education commissioner, and Dr. C. Floyd Haviland, president of the State Hospital Commission, were considering the removal of the Buffalo State Hospital to Gowanda and, subsequently, the housing of the Buffalo State Normal School in the vacated hospital. Consequently, under the auspices of the City Planning Commission, a three-day hearing was held in Buffalo, beginning on April 12. At the close of the session, Chauncy J. Hamlin, chairman of the Niagara frontier planning board, was quoted as saying that the State Hospital could not be moved in the near future, but that this did not "necessarily foreclose the possibility of the use of a portion of that site for the expansion of the Normal School."

Notwithstanding this, it appeared that the project would not go through. However, at a meeting of the city council on October 20, 1926, the communication of Commissioner Frank C. Perkins was adopted, requesting the State of New York to convey back to the city for Normal School purposes a portion of the State Hospital property on Elmwood avenue opposite the Albright Art Gallery. On this same date, the council directed that a bill be prepared for introduction at the next session of the legislature authorizing the conveyance by the State of New York of fifteen acres at the northwest corner of the Hospital grounds, such property to be used for school and park purposes. Shortly after, however, the city papers published a plan under the caption: "Buffalo's New Educational Center Recommended by Frank C. Perkins, Commissioner of Public Affairs." As developed by Mr. Perkins, the plan called for cutting through the present hospital grounds a wide boulevard and several streets. The boulevard would separate 130 acres to the north of the tract, which, according to the hospital authorities, would never be used. On this area, the commissioner suggested that the State Normal School, the Black Rock High School, an elementary school, a physical training school, a vocational school and a huge stadium be erected.

Early in December, therefore, Mayor Frank X. Schwab called a hearing in the city council chambers, where such vigorous opposition was expressed to the plan by the Board of Education that the possibility of locating the Riverside High School and the Bissell Vocational School on this tract was abandoned. The essential feature of the segregation of this property and its use by the city and state jointly as an educational center made such a strong appeal to the Mayor, however, that at this time he took charge of the project, and with unremitting persistence and unflagging interest secured the first hearing with the Governor on December 28, heading a delegation of city officials, legislators, and other men, representative of Normal School interests. Let it be said in passing that the Governor, at this time, left a sickbed to meet the Buffalo delegation. Governor Smith was, moreover, entirely familiar with the situation, having visited the present Normal School property and the State Hospital grounds on August 21, 1926.

On the occasion of this hearing, Governor Smith indicated that nothing could be done until the legislature convened. He recommended, however, that the same delegation confer with the legislative leaders soon after the beginning of the session. Such a hearing was subsequently arranged on January 11, 1927, but no decisive result was attained. The leaders listened respectfully, but without special interest, and advised Mayor Schwab and others in the group that the whole subject would be taken up at an executive session by members of the State Land Board. After waiting some days, however, since no announcement was made, practically the same group again pressed the Governor in his private office for a decision. Senator Hewitt, Speaker McGinnies, Senator Knight, Assemblyman Hutchinson, all the Senators and Assemblymen from Erie County, together with all others interested, were present. Strong opposition, however, was expressed by Dr. Frederick W. Parsons, head of the State Department of Mental Hygiene. At this crisis, it seemed as though the conference had reached an impasse and that further efforts in this direction were absolutely futile.

At this time, however, Mayor Schwab, always keen to sense the psychological moment, came forward with an interesting proposal, which indicated that the city would remove the large reception building of the State Hospital to ground available near the corner of Forest and Elmwood avenues. This would relieve a fine frontage of 624 feet on Elmwood avenue opposite the Art Gallery, which could be used by the new Normal School. The Governor immediately assumed a new interest in the project. There was a hurried, whispered conference between Governor Smith and Senator McGinnies. Shortly afterwards, the Governor presented to Mayor Schwab this clean cut and rather startling proposal:

1. That the State of New York cede to the City of Buffalo 85 acres comprising approximately the northern half of the State Hospital grounds.
2. That the State of New York deed over to the City of Buffalo the present Normal School property and grounds.
3. That the City of Buffalo move the reception building from its present location to another to be determined later.
4. That the City of Buffalo, under the direction of the State Department of Education, erect a new Normal School building on this tract, facing Elmwood avenue, at a cost not to exceed one and one-half million dollars.

Mayor Schwab sensed the feasibility of this proposal and said that he would refer it at once to the city council. Consequently, a public hearing on the entire proposal was called for Tuesday afternoon, March 1, 1927. Meanwhile, a vigorous campaign of publicity was undertaken and the assistance of many civic and educational organizations was enlisted so that when the hearing was held, no less than forty-three such groups were represented in favor of the proposal. Among these were:

The Chamber of Commerce
The Board of Education
The Central Labor Council
The City Federation of Women's Clubs
The Buffalo Federation of Business Organizations
The Rotary Club
The Greater Buffalo Ad Club
——— and others.

For a time the possibility of a referendum threatened, but it was voted down. The speech of Henry F. Jerge, a member of the Board of Education, was especially noteworthy on this occasion. Moreover, opposition had loomed from Riverside and Black Rock groups, but this disappeared when Mayor Schwab stated that the proposed agreement included no scheme to place a Black Rock-Riverside high school on this site. Therefore, after those advocating acceptance of the plan, led by Edward H. Butler, President of the Local Board, had spoken, the Council consequently moved to discontinue the discussion and voted unanimously for the proposal. Corporation Counsel Gregory U. Harmon was then authorized by Mayor Schwab to prepare a legislative bill; he was given invaluable assistance in this by Ex-Senator Henry W. Hill.

The bill was finally introduced in the Senate by Senator William J. Hickey and in the Assembly by Assemblyman Henry Hutt on March 8, 1927. Sharp objections, however, were raised by Sullivan W. Jones, state architect, to certain provisions of the measure. A new bill was therefore framed which threatened to nullify some of the original proposals and kill the entire proposition. But these disheartening factors tended only to arouse the representatives of Buffalo, especially Mayor Schwab, who immediately sought a conference with Governor Smith. At this conference, the original proposals were discussed with such characteristic frankness that every hostile objection raised by the state department officials was overcome and success was finally achieved. The original bill, with slight modifications, was subsequently introduced into the Senate by Senator William J. Hickey on March 21, and into the Assembly by Assemblyman Henry Hutt on March 23, and was passed unanimously in both houses. In both these cases, moreover, passage was facilitated by emergency measures obtained by Assistant Corporation Counsel Harmon from the Governor, who put his signature to the bill on March 31, 1927. Thus the bill became a law.

According to the terms of the law, the State will have ninety days in which to vacate the reception building, and ninety days for the preparation of plans for the new reception building. The state architect who will prepare the plans for the new state normal school must begin, according to law, on July 1, 1927, and must complete the same on or before February 1, 1928; these plans will be subject to the approval of the State Department of Education.

The city contemplates the construction of a boulevard 106 feet wide and over one-half mile in length which will separate the hospital property from the newly acquired 91 acres; on this land the city will doubtless erect, in time a new athletic stadium seating approximately 60,000 people. The Normal School tract will have a depth of 1,016 feet along a line drawn at right angles to Elmwood Avenue; the rear line of this property will be 1,428.5 feet in length and will intercept Scajaquada Drive at a point just east of the little promontory projecting into the creek. This tract will be ample to provide for a football gridiron, a baseball diamond, tennis courts, and several new buildings as needed for future years. The pressing requirements of the present dictate a necessity for a girl's dormitory in the near future. The proximity of Delaware Lake will provide for boating and for such winter sports as skating and hockey.

It is the general consensus of opinion that nowhere in the city could a more advantageous location have been found. It combines beauty of unusual park and landscape effects with an atmosphere of cultural and educational achievement already assured by the presence in the neighborhood of the classic Albright Art Gallery, the McKinley Vocational School, a branch of the Buffalo Society of Natural Sciences, a prospective open air theatre and the beautiful Historical Building. A co-operative plan will be worked out whereby Normal School students may avail themselves of the educational opportunities offered by these institutions.

Senior Song

Let's pledge our loyalty and love
To Alma Mater;
Let's say that there is none above
Our Alma Mater.
To her, who guided all our ways,
To her let's sing for endless days,
To her let's promise endless praise,
Our Alma Mater.

In years when we are far from her,
Our Alma Mater;
Still to her precepts we'll defer,
Dear Alma Mater.
To her fair knowledge we shall bow,
To her fair standards we shall vow
Allegiance glowing then as now,
For Alma Mater.

History of the Fourth Year Class

The twenty-odd hesitant students forming the new fourth year General Normal Class last September, in their doubt as to how to establish proper precedent, were perhaps too concerned to appreciate fully that they were the realization of a great ideal. Many great ideals are conceived and born, but it is safe to say that fewer are realized than die. Had the fourth year class fully realized that it was one of the few ideals that do survive, perhaps it would have felt its importance more. It came into being as one of the steps in the ladder of events leading from the beginning of expansion of the school to the yet-to-be-realized new building. The first rung in the ladder was made in 1919, when the Board of Regents adopted the measure providing for the fourth year in the Homemaking Course. This marked the beginning of the school's growth, which continued until the next rung in the ladder was accomplished in 1922. Then the General Normal Course was established on a three year basis. Still the growth continued, until another rung was started for the ladder, in May 1925, when the Board of Regents approved the establishment of the fourth year course. This rung was completed in June 1926; the Board of Regents recognized the fourth year course and gave permission to grant degrees June 1927. On May 27, 1927 the name of the school was changed to the State Teachers' College at Buffalo. What the sensation of getting degrees is, the very new class has yet to experience. There are two more rungs to be built, the changing of the name of the school and the change of location. It is something, indeed, to be a new class; but it is something greater to know that this class is a realization of a truly big ideal.

History of the Homemaking Class

The group of dignified Seniors to be granted degrees this June brings pleasant memories to us of fifty eager Freshmen who were admitted to the rank of homemakers at the Buffalo State Normal School in the autumn of 1923. Among our varied experiences as such was the preparation of breakfast at the Practice House, a task looked forward to with juvenile fear and trembling. However, frequent parties at the close of day brought us much enjoyment. These together with membership in various organizations made it possible for us to become quickly oriented. Our joy knew no bounds when we as mere Freshmen carried off the first prize in the annual Stunt Nite Contest. Still our achievements did not end! Members of the Freshmen Class were given a part in the Homemaking Day assembly program. We posed as medieval ladies in the tableaux. June came. We were much wiser as to the meaning of H. C. E.—C. H. O., calories, vitamins, darns, mends and what not. Six weeks of our previous summer vacation were to be spent managing a household.

Our Sophomore year was made up of days spent in the laundry, and days spent at the Practice House preparing formal dinners.

In our Junior year the class divided into Food Majors and Clothing Majors. The Clothing Majors visited dressmaking shops of all descriptions, while the Food Majors caught a glimpse of food preparation at the Statler Hotel. Our year came to a close with the prospect of another project, this time in a commercial field.

Re-entering school in the fall as a part of the Senior Class and sole owners of the Practice House, we divided our time between teaching and living in the House. Here we held open house for the student body on annual Homemaking Day. This June holds for us the prospect of a successful graduation and the coveted golden tassel on our mortar boards.

History of the Third Year General Normal

It is an astounding gap we bridge, from our lofty senior status back to the almost forgotten days when we were mere (but by no means insignificant) Freshmen. That first year was mainly a hazy process of adjusting ourselves to the Normal School. First in our memory is that auspicious occasion of the Freshmen Reception when we were properly introduced to the faculty who were later to prove the only serious obstacles to a painless graduation. From the very beginning we showed our excellent judgment by choosing as our president Robert Black. Then we made our presence felt by capturing first honors in tennis and girls' basketball. Before June we had convinced not only the school but the authorities at Albany as well that we were unusual children worthy of special recognition; for lo, on April 28, Governor Alfred Smith signed a bill permitting the Buffalo State Normal School to be placed upon a four year college basis. Although the babies of the institution, we defy anyone to say we were lacking in high spirits or vocal ability on that memorable occasion.

Carefree and happy we returned to our Alma Mater for our second year under the guidance of Kathleen Croll. We were to be initiated into that charming pastime, Practice Teaching. As hardened practice teachers we cannot now appreciate the qualms and misgivings with which we stood before our first class of so-called students. Some of us were lucky enough to have this pleasure postponed until the second term. At first life seemed cruel and hard because we were now broken up into departments, thus separated from some of our first year friends. However, we soon formed new friendships and all was once again serene. This year we were to become better acquainted with the faculty by having one member as an advisor for each section. Because we were models of perfect behavior, the beginnings of an honor system were gradually developed. Now you may look in vain for the well-remembered hall proctor. Before this year was ended the Buffalo State Normal School was assured of a sufficient addition to the teaching staff to start the new four year course.

Ah, the thrill of being lords of the manor! Not until our third year did things really begin to happen. First of all we came back to find a dear friend in the new office of Dean. That was a good start. Then we were permitted to greet thirteen new teachers, who were hailed joyously as the first evidence of our newly acquired collegiate standing. They have proved all that we had hoped for. With graduation before us naturally most of our time has been given to scholastic endeavors, but in the meantime, we have had a good time. There was our more than successful Prom as the chief social event of the winter. Not the least important event has been the changing of the name of our school to The State Teachers College at Buffalo.

The Scholarship Group

1926-1927

"Our youthful hearts for learning burn,
Away, away to school!"

The seventh of September, one-thousand nine hundred and twenty-six, was a day which has stamped itself indelibly on the minds of the Scholarship Group. At nine o'clock on the morning of that day, we found ourselves, in company with many other students, in the auditorium of the Buffalo State Normal School. Bright faces smiled at us on every hand. A few of the braver spirits started a conversation, and friends welcomed one another after the long vacation. Meanwhile the notes from the organ, played under the skillful direction of Miss Ruth Speir, bade us welcome to the school life around us. A bell tinkled its warning; the music ceased; and we knew that school life had begun.

We pause in the midst of our reverie in order that we may introduce to our readers the members of the group. For the sake of brevity, we will present them assembled in their respective trades.

In the field of Automobile Mechanics, we present, Frank L. Day, Hannibal; Clarence J. Becker, Olean; Edwin F. Cudlipp Jr., Mt. Vernon; Donald Garrity, Lockport; Roy E. Jones, LeRoy S. Burley and Wm. E. Spalding, all of Buffalo. Cabinet making and Carpentry is represented by Emile J. Bilodeau, Buffalo and W. A. Traynham of New York City. The art of Patternmaking is being upheld by Geo. W. Wright, Lancaster; Harry W. Peak, Buffalo; Edwin S. Crowe and Frank J. Murphy of Dunkirk. Aspirants in the field of Printing are Lynn Bachmann, Honeoye Falls; Harry W. Kabel, Watertown; and Ralph D. Palmer of Binghamton. Electricians are Louis Jones, New York City; David E. Meade, Middlesex; Geo. A. Thorn, Rochester; and Thos. J. Murphy, Buffalo. Other fields represented are, Iron Moulding, Alec. R. Birnie, Buffalo; Garment Design, Rose Cohen, New York City; Sheet Metal Work, Ralph Fraser, Amsterdam; Commercial Baking, Cady G. Joyce, Penfield; Textiles, Howard B. Noble, Amsterdam; Plumbing, Edward P. Tyrrell, Oneida.

All dreams have an end. And dreams come true only in the degree to which we make them come true. Therein lies the beauty of a dream. We find ourselves at the end of the year on the threshold of a new experience, with added responsibilities and the opportunities of a life time before us. We go forth to dare and to do, and that is the inspiration of our dream.

To our instructors who have dealt so patiently with us we extend our deepest appreciation for their efforts in our behalf. To our friends and associates we can only say a happy, successful life and Godspeed.

CADY G. JOYCE.

Moving Up Day

The year 1926-1927 has seen many changes in our school life because of the fact that we are a college. Among these new features was Moving-Up Day, sponsored by the Fourth Year Class with the generous help of Dr. Rockwell, Dr. Neumann, Dean Reed, and Miss Sipp. May twenty-fourth was the day devoted to “Moving Up.” The morning assembly was given over to the students. Representatives of the four classes gave talks relating to the occasion from their respective viewpoints. Dr. Rockwell spoke of what the day meant to the faculty.

In the afternoon, a most delightful trip was taken around Buffalo Harbor. This trip was made possible by Dr. Rockwell who gave us permission to go without the terror of “make ups” for the classes missed. Mr. Elms, author of Buffalo's Text Book, helped us in securing a boat for the trip, which was a mixture of fun, economics, geography and sociology seasoned with music from our own orchestra.

We hope that Moving Up Day will become as much a part of school life as Stunt Nite or Home Economics Day. It is just such days as these that make us believe the old saying—“School days are the happiest days of our lives.”

Alma Mater

I

By Niagara's rippling waters,
Stands our city's pride,
Dearer to her sons and daughters
Than all else besides.

Chorus:

Hail to thee! O Alma Mater,
We shall honor thee.
All our love and deep devotion,
Thine shall ever be.

II

Far and near her glory shining
Draws us to her side,
Ne'er to anyone declining
Helping hand to guide.

III

Glory, then, to Alma Mater
Through the years shall ring
And all those who follow after
Like ourselves shall sing.

Song of the Normal Schools

I

We sing of the Normal Schools all thru the State—
They're noble, illustrious, famous, and great!
That it's hard to get in, not a Freshman will doubt;
But the Seniors will tell you it's worse to get out!
    Tooralee, tooralay—
But the Seniors will tell you it's worse to get out!

II

Fredonia and Potsdam are far, far apart,
But both of them struggle with Music and Art.
Geneseo's librarians burn midnight wicks;
Oneonta trains teachers to knows lots of tricks—
    Tooralee, tooralay—

III

Our Buff'lo in Home Economics has led;
At Cortland they're noted for Physical Ed.;
In Plattsburg they study for Commerce, but then,
Oswego and Buff'lo have plenty of men!
    Tooralee, tooralay—etc.

IV

With Brockport and New Paltz our list is complete—
Our ten Normal Schools—they just cannot be beat!
We hope we're not Ab- and we know we're not Sub-
To be Normal Forever—aye, there is the rub!
    Tooralee, tooralay—etc.

JOSEPHINE CHOATE.

The Teacher Up To Date

Teacher (with great concern): "Are you all comfortably seated?"

Class: "Yes, indeed."

Teacher: "I am sure you will be very comfortable here and may I say that I am very happy to be with you to-day?"

Class: "Yes, sure. Thanks."

Teacher: "Are you quite satisfied with the seating arrangement?"

Class: "Oh, Yes. Perfectly lovely."

Teacher: "I'm so glad you like it. And how do you find the temperature? Is it too cold or too hot?"

Student: "It is a bit stuffy, don't you think, teacher dear?"

Teacher: "It will give me great pleasure to open the ventilators. It is only by hearing from my cherished students that I am able to determine whether the atmospheric conditions are what they should be or not. Is that better?"

Student: "Yep."

Teacher: "I'm so glad. Now if any of you need a snack to eat during the hour, the ice-box is at your disposal."

Class: "That's okay with us. What have we on the menu to-day, teacher dear?"

Teacher: "Caviar on toast and lamb pie with strawberry shortcake for side dish."

Class: "Oh, goody."

Teacher: "Now, have you all brought your assignment to class?"

Student: "Ooh, I forgot!"

Teacher: "Ease your mind, Darling. Think no more of it. I'll send someone up to your home to fetch it."

Student: "That's so kind of you."

Teacher: "Not at all. A mere detail. Now, if you'll pardon me, I'll go on with the lesson. I want you to regard this as your home and come here often."

Class: "Thanks. You must come and see us some time, too."

Teacher: "Delighted."

Class: "Not at all."

Collegiate Cipher

A student much imbued with the new collegiate atmosphere writes the following letter.

(Apologies for the obvious lack in form requirements).

Dear,

The great love we have for our school arises because we are collegiate and our hearts burst with a fondness that increases daily. We are in every way disposed and determined to cultivate the correct slouch and in this way to carry out its noble aims so that it may be proud of us. After little imbibing of economics, sociology, psychology and philosophy, you can be assured that we feel this institution has been recognized for contributing a large supply of capital to work with and has impressed us with its lofty standards of excellence for which in accordance with its true college spirit, the labor return has been low and the students will ever sing the highest praises to Alma Mater. Now, we have made a good beginning but we must improve the service that such a college renders to an individual and so if "Love Stories from Life" and "True Stories" are available for make-ups the effect can only be of the very best. Then too, something must be done to develop more "inferiority labor complexes" so that we shall never fail to bear in mind that the best teachers know nothing about what they teach, thus proving what a privilege it has been to just be here.

In closing let me reassure you that this is the real college attitude and I remain

Your most collegiate friend.

P. S. Why were you so inquisitive and so ready to read all this correspondence? I was so filled with my subject that I forgot to tell you to read only every other line. Now begin it all over again and read it all the way through as above.

Fragments of a Maddening Ego

It is properly conventional that I begin this autobiography by speaking of my early home, but the place where I spent my girlhood is not at all to the point, and aristocratic logic requires that such a description be omitted. However, a frown has reached longitudinal height on my forehead; I am warned and convinced that I cannot begin to write eccentric autobiographies until I have attained prestige. For this reason, I comply with the ordinary and the expected. My home to begin with—It was a clap-boarded rectangle set in the midst of a plot of grass that turned brown and green with the seasons. There were other rectangles near by, to be sure; but they were marked by the same blue window-panes, and often the several landlords were equally mean about "papering". It was in such an atmosphere that I turned to books.

The Normal School was exactly two miles distant from my home; and so, wishing to carry my education further, I became regularly enrolled in the institution. During the first year, I endured a semester of communicable and uncommunicable diseases. I distinctly remember sitting through the "symptoms of hysteria." A dash of cold water and an attempt to "be firm" were the two remedies. Well, I tried firmness, to the limit, before the instructor passed on to the symptoms of Scarlet Fever. Consulting my memoirs of this period, I find recorded, in a handwriting that lost its slant trying to reach for size, the statement that a certain teacher, at Normal, was interested in my "Palmer", and encouraged me to repeat the course. My memoirs tell me, I spent two hours practicing "alto" with a pal, and that when we came to sing the duet in class, I went off pitch on the chorus. I find it was during this year that I arrived at school every morning before 8:30, in order to "talk to different people," and "watch the faculty come in." Well, at that time, I must have been a very imaginative and winsome youngster! My early literary judgments I have left until the end. They lacked only the rhyme of postal card sentiment. Dumas, the French writer, I spoke of as having a "temperamental diction;" after that, I aped the expression, "Ah! I am in love with such literature!" So much for Dumas! Jane Austen's beautifully constructed classic, Pride and Prejudice, was, according to my notes, "stupidly simple"; and, according to my notes again, the only adequate preface to Sesame and Lilies, was a portrait of John Ruskin, affixed to the front page. I associated Ruskin's "intelligent brow and deep eyes" with his "exquisite phrasing", and the "stern lines about his mouth" with the "sincerity of his word." Let me add that since my Freshman Year, I am very skeptical about eyes that look "deep" on a flat surface, "brows" that have the ability to look intelligent, and wrinkles that can appear "stern."

In my second year, there were no "electives" offered, so I was again encouraged to continue my "Palmer." At the same time, I started my first literary endeavor, and produced my paper on Chivalry, June 17, 1924, one day before it was actually due. After this fairly successful attempt, I "wrote up" a few thoughts for the Record. Well, the issue came from the press, and I was able to distinguish an article that sounded very similar to the one which I had submitted. However, a greater portion of my second year was devoted to a Nature Study "project." My particular "project" was "taking care of the gold fish," and it projected into the morning, noon, and lunch hour. At times, it became a day's adventure to slip ink-stained fingers into the liquid of a crystalline globe, and chase aquatic vertebrates about the corners. A golden cyprinoid, struggling for air, when it accidentally drops to the floor, is most distressing; and, so, I shall always remember poor "Goldie," who almost met her death in that manner.

The third fragment of my school career was marked by further literary achievement. I produced a short theme for Sociology, and a brief one for Psychology. The latter was said to be an "excellent outline." "Excellent outline" or not, the third year was one of close application to second-hand texts and committee meetings. There were hours when Senior personalities were lost in the confusion of class dues, mortar board, and books. But, mark you, those books had not the charm of faded covers, and they were not even suggestive of the mustiness of neglected book stalls. They were resplendent works; brilliant in appearance and biting in expression. The newness of the covers was only relieved, here and there, by a few rain spots. Inside the pasteboards, the author had filled snowy pages with modern thoughts; and, in the margins of the books, a masculine hand had invariably sprawled his comment, "The author is a mono-maniac himself!" Such was my Senior year, and I came back to try another turn at Normal.

Returning for post-graduate work, I found my interests were mainly in the field of literature. Consequently, I thought often of investing in books, and I secured Alton Locke, which proved to be all that I had expected in the way of a reasonable antique. It was not very old, to be sure, but it had the yellowed pages, covers of that interesting shade of faded purple, and a broken back. There were no waggish comments in its margins; the pages were not effused by my lady's essence of "quelques fleurs", and they were not cluttered by my gentleman's tickets to pugilistic and aesthetic socials. I think the last person, who read the book, was a "sergeant," with distinctive shoes that had never seen polish, and yarned gloves that looked pledged. Perhaps the "sergeant" has charmed me into seriousness; I am headed directly toward literary theory. Well, I will spare my readers, and cut that short, for I am not certain but the "sergeant" had the pernicious habit of smoking "stogies."

Youth Is Beauty

And Youthful Beauty comes from within. Comes from the "Youth Units" you eat—not the lotions you use.

The outward signs of approaching age can be erased by a daily diet of the "Youth Units" in Fro-joy Ice Cream. It will rebuild worn-out cells and wasting tissues.

"Youth Units" are the marvelously rejuvenating food elements—

organic iron, lime, phosphorus and the essential vitamins.

The most delightful way to secure the greatest number of "Youth Units" is to eat Fro-joy Ice Cream. It is scientifically made by experts in twenty-seven modern sanitary ice cream plants. It is delicious and digestible, and not fattening.

Fro-joy comes in all flavors and in either bulk or brick. Don't forget to ask for it at your favorite soda fountain or at your dealer's.
