THE ELMS OF 1929

*Hail to thee! O Alma Mater,
We shall honor thee.*

The cornerstone of the present building was laid October 9, 1913, by The Honorable Edward H. Butler, President of the Local Board of Managers.

The Graduating Classes of
STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE AT BUFFALO
BUFFALO, N. Y.

FOREWORD

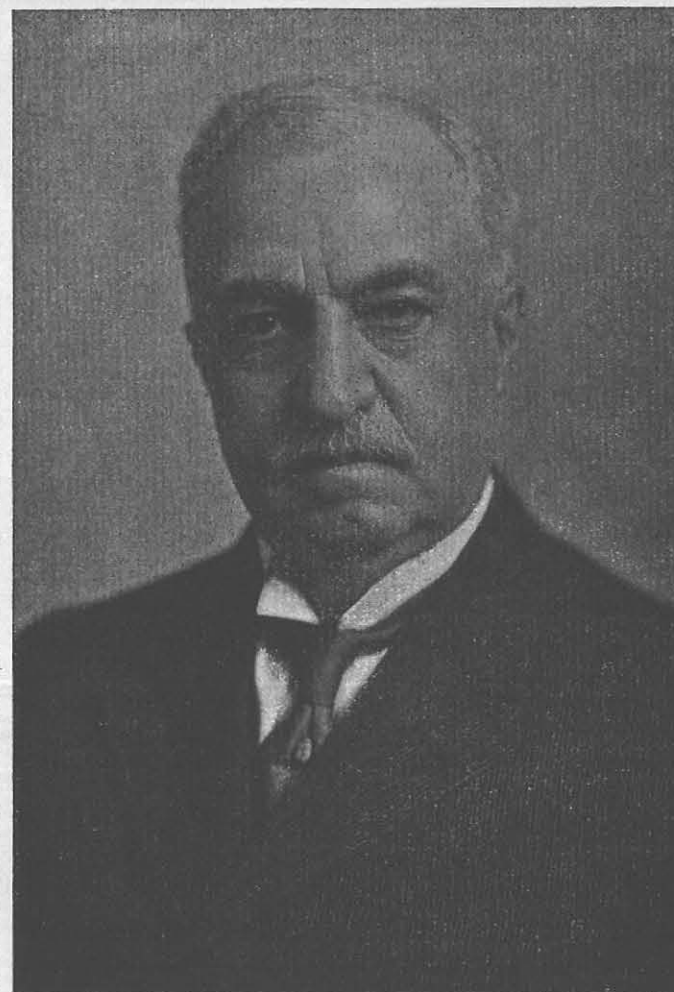

Ground for the new college was broken November 7, 1928. The cornerstone for the main building is to be laid in September 1929.

On June twenty-third, eighteen hundred sixty-six, Jesse Ketchum offered land to the city of Buffalo for a Normal School building. Upon that site, this institution was founded. It has borne two names and dwelt in two buildings. Now the original site has been outgrown and ground for new college buildings has been broken. In the following pages, the Staff of the 1929 Elms has tried to present the history of this development and something of the spirit that made this growth possible.

DEDICATION

To The Hon. Henry Wayland Hill, LL.D.

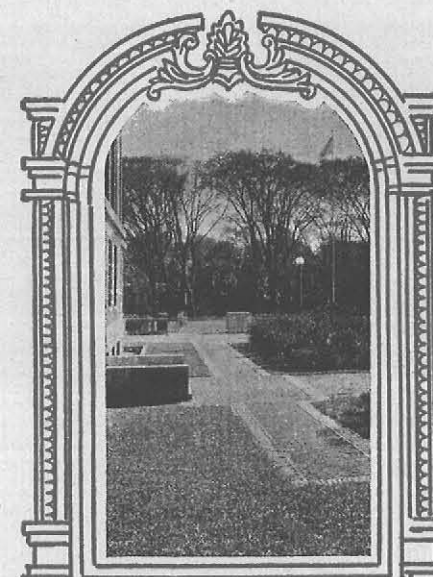

With sincere appreciation of his interest and efforts in the behalf of our institution, the class of nineteen hundred twenty-nine dedicates this eighteenth volume of the Elms to the Honorable Henry Wayland Hill, for many years Secretary and Treasurer of the Local Board of Trustees.

C O N T E N T S

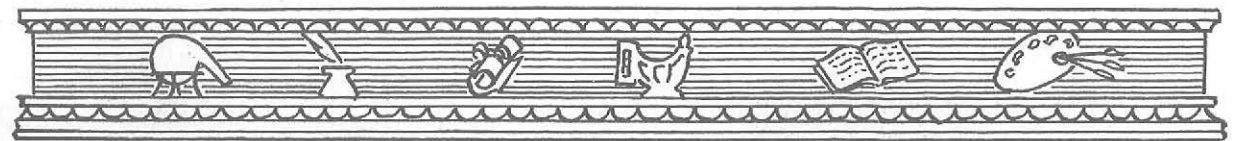

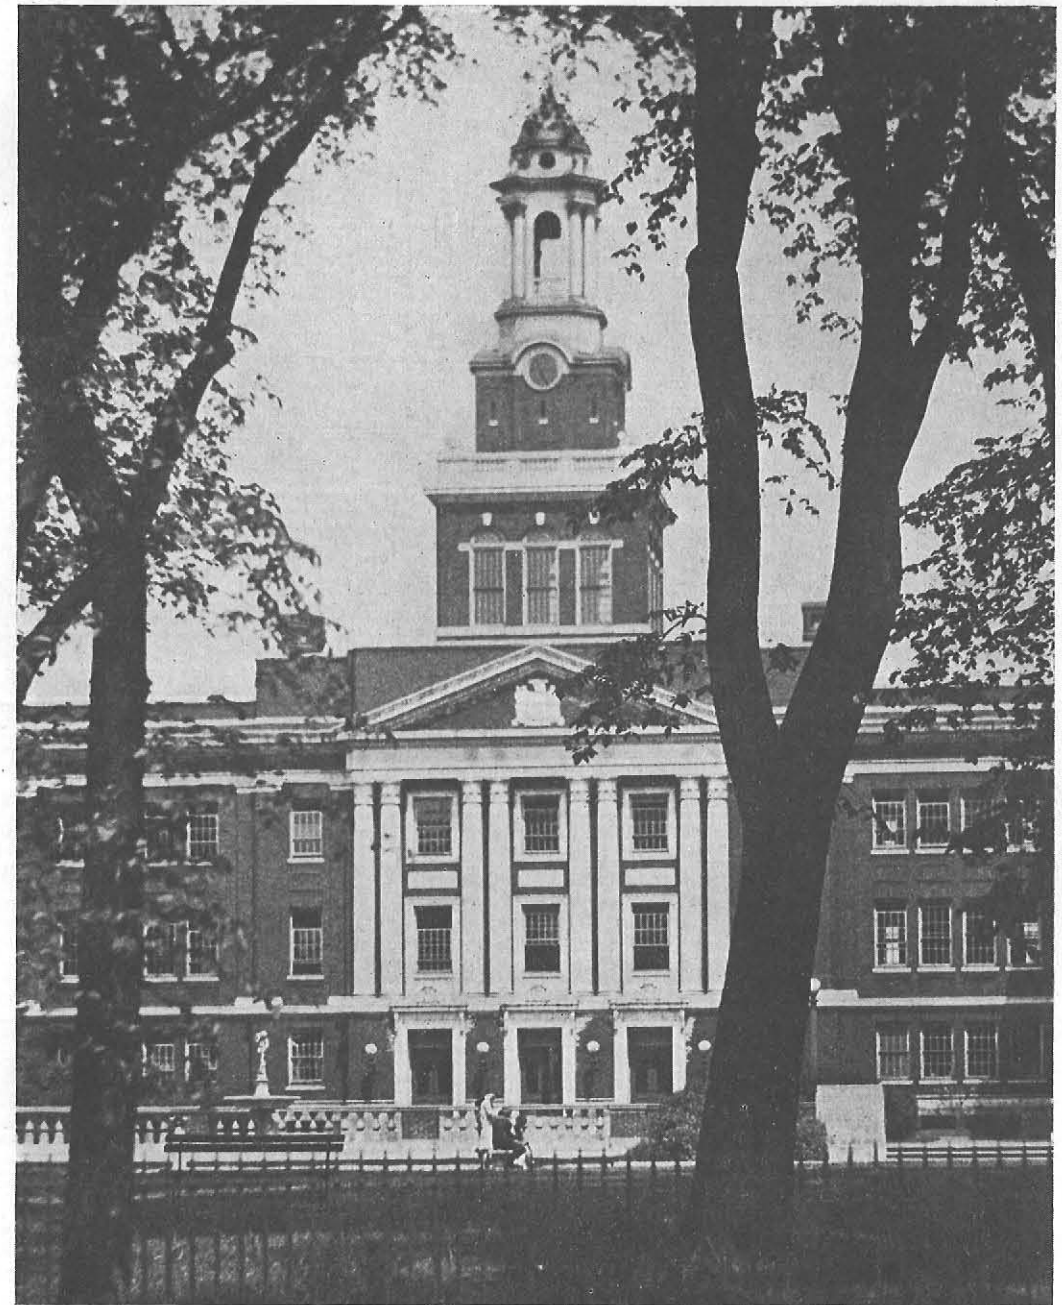

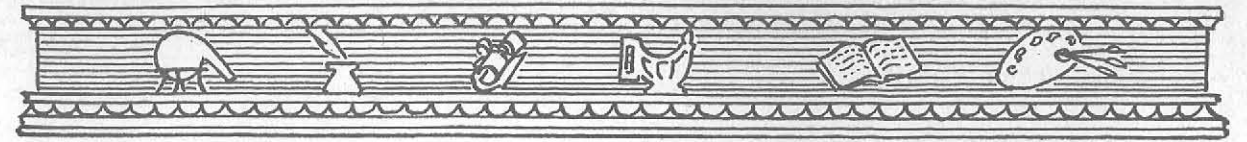

Although many books had been accumulating since the beginning of the school, the library was not organized until 1910. During the past year it was reorganized.

Henry B. Buckham, A.M., Principal 1871-1886, was appointed first principal of the Buffalo Normal School, January 1871. He continued as principal until June 1886.

DR. JAMES M. CASSETY
Principal 1886-1909

Dr. James M. Cassety, a graduate of Harvard, was appointed principal succeeding Mr. Buckham. He entered upon his duties as Principal and "Teacher of Didactics" in September 1886. During his administration the facilities for practice teaching were increased by dividing the class rooms with sliding doors, and fitting up additional rooms. In 1888 the Science building was completed. This was for "Gymnasium, Natural Science Department and Chemical Experimentation." The Principal's residence was completed in 1894. The rooms formerly occupied by the principal's family were then fitted up for the use of the School of Practice. The School of Practice was organized into the regular nine grades of the city schools, each with forty pupils, with a separate critic teacher. About this time, the Kindergarten was established as a private school with tuition fees for pupils, in connection with the Normal School. In 1895, it was made a part of the Normal department and the three-year Kindergarten-Primary course was adopted. During Dr. Cassety's administration, also, the Natural Science laboratory was fitted up, the iron fence was erected, and the elms set out around the block. In 1909, at the close of the school year, Dr. Cassety resigned.

DR. DANIEL UPTON
Principal, 1909-1918

Dr. Daniel Upton, a graduate of Cornell University, began his duties as Principal of the Normal School in September 1909. With the growing demands of public school education, the State Department at Albany had already adopted the policy that Buffalo Normal School should undertake the work of preparing teachers equipped for the demands of manual training and technical work in the public schools. To this service Dr. Upton consecrated his life. Within two years of his appointment two new departments had been created, the Home-making Vocational and the Industrial Vocational. With the addition of these departments the old building proved itself wholly inadequate. The next important work was the planning and building of the present structure of the Normal School. The cornerstone of the building was laid October 9, 1913 by the Honorable Edward H. Butler, President of the Local Board of Managers. In September 1914, sessions began in the new building. In 1916, Public School 38 was taken over for additional practice teaching facilities. Night school classes for skilled mechanics began in 1912, and in 1917 the first summer session began. In the midst of the second summer session, July 27, 1918, Dr. Upton died suddenly.

HARRY WESTCOTT ROCKWELL, A.B., A.M., Ph.D.

Under the leadership of President Rockwell the school has made marked advances. First the Homemaking Department went on a four-year basis, granting degrees. Then, the Industrial Department was established as a part of the Vocational Department, the General Normal course was lengthened, first to three years, then to four, with the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education. Finally the name of Buffalo Normal School was changed to State Teachers College at Buffalo. While these changes were taking place, Dr. Rockwell was working to secure legislation for a new college plant. This was accomplished in March, 1927, when the Governor signed the bill approving the new campus and buildings.

*With my best wishes,
Harry W. Rockwell*

A Saving Spirit

One of the Seniors of S.T.C. recently had a narrow escape from horrible injuries. A very few minutes after she had left home to attend a basketball game, the wind blew over the chimney on her house, knocking some of the bricks through the ceiling into her room. Thus, because of her School Spirit she was saved. MORAL.....

Evening Serial Story

A BAD DREAM

Synopsis: All that has gone before.

Nth CHAPTER

It was away out Grant Street on the outskirts of the Hamilton wood, near the site of two old oil Wells that it happened; there stood a haunted Hall wherein met a Gardiner, a Shoemaker, a Miller, and a Butler every night to Hunt for hidden treasure—a famous Fox and Katz fur.

Late one night, Peter's son, a Shepard boy, stopped to Steele for his sweetheart a Rose from the Bauer near the window of the Hall. Alas! He stumbled over one of the old Graves in the yard. His Cain clicked against a tombstone. There was a sound of feet on the door Matt. Then a large Batt struck his head! So, now his mother is praying that her son may return soon to his supper of Rice with its sugared Topping.

Farewell to Alma Mater

*Our days with you are over;
It's time for us to part.
Alone, without your guidance
New epochs we must start.
We leave you, Alma Mater
With fondest memory
Of work and play together
At our dear old S. T. C.*

*We glory in your triumphs,
Your victories and fame.
We treasure love and friendships;
We're proud of your dear name.
We cherish all you've given,
The guardian you have been
Instilling great desires to
Aspire, seek, and win.*

*So now, dear Alma Mater
We bid you our farewell.
In our hearts and minds forever
Your kind, sweet thoughts will dwell.
We turn our footsteps forward,
We, the class of '29,
To go forever onward
In this noble work of thine.*

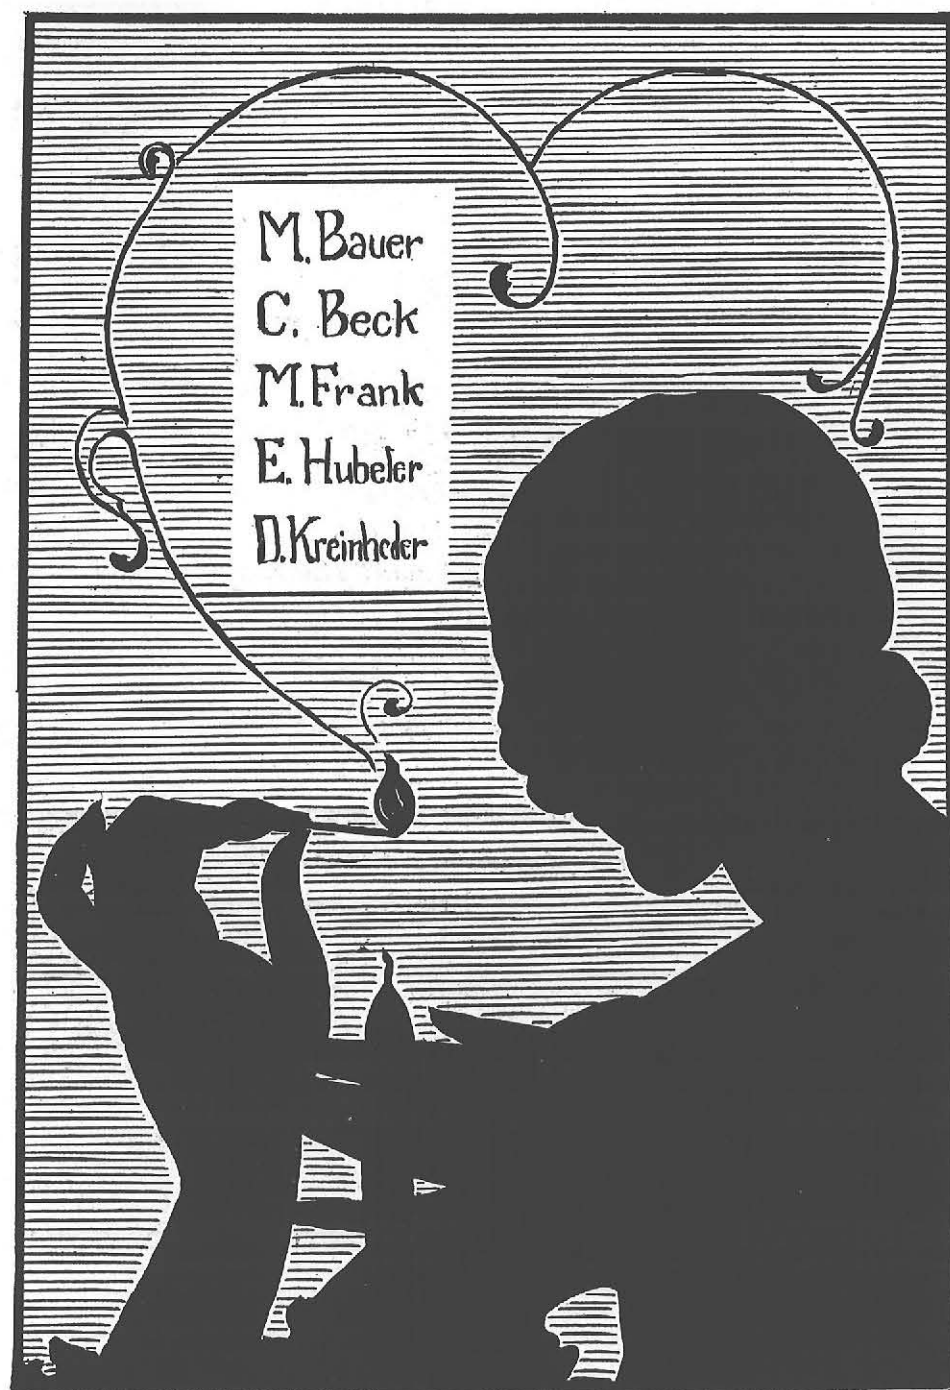

Words Stella Shurgot
Music Verna Barcellona

To The Alma Mater at Midnight

*I watched you against the autumn sky,
The Dipper sank wearily toward the tower,
And the elms bowed when like a sigh
The clock struck out the lingering hour.*

*The echoes fell on my head like rain
That blots and blurs and contorts the night.
Then I stole away with a sudden pain
That turned my face from each glaring light.*

Sophomore Sallies

The Class of 1930, our noble Sophomores, has certainly been zipping along this year. To begin with, when the election returns were in, we found that Jean Moulton was our President, Ruth Milloy our Vice-President, Betty Hausen, Secretary, and Bertram Miller, Treasurer. Under the able leadership of these officers and the faculty advisor, Dr. Bethel, the class has planned and carried out some great things. Chief among them was our assembly program—Sofrivalities. All the members of the cast, as well as Miss Dorothy Marley, who was in charge, worked very hard on the program, and, judging by applause, the results were worth all the effort.

This year our class inaugurated an event which we hope will become an annual one—our Sweater Dance. Inspired by the success of the first dance, we have already made plans for subsequent ones and we feel sure that our Sweater Dance will become a permanent college institution.

Last year, as Freshmen, we walked away with the honors on Moving-up Day and we intend to repeat the performance as Sophomores. To aid and sponsor the worthy cause we elected Dorothy Ralph and Earl Sharrow as marshals. They will have charge of the running off of the events, while the rest of the class runs off with the honors—ahem!

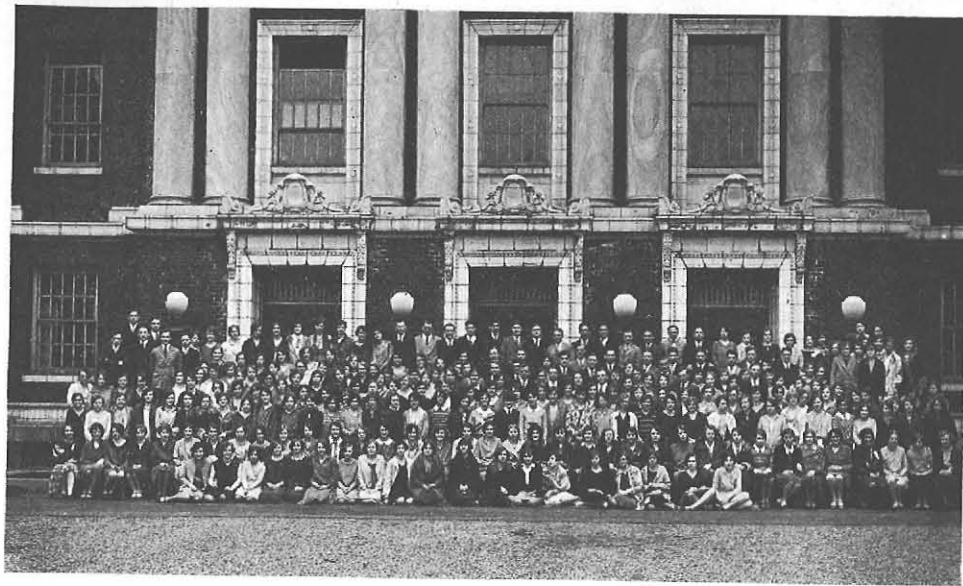

Aside from such minor details as the Soph-Senior War and our treasurer's color combinations, our Sophomore year has been a profitable and enjoyable one. Here's hoping all our college days pass as happily.

*Between registration and mid-term,
While the Freshmen are still fresh and meek,
Comes a pause in the year's occupation
That is known as Freshman Week.*

General Rules for Freshman Week

Rules for Men:

1. During Freshman Week, first year men must wear green ties.
2. First year men must not talk to girls.
3. Smoking on the campus is prohibited during this time.
4. They must obey upper-classmen.

Rules for Girls:

1. Freshman girls must use the back door on Normal Street only.
2. Every girl must enter the school building each morning singing a school song.
3. Girls must speak to the instructors in the halls with a cheery good morning.
4. Girls must wear the official Frosh buttons.

Special Rules for Girls:

Monday: From nine to noon, girls shall speak to everyone in the halls; from noon until four o'clock they shall cease to speak to anyone except their instructors.

Tuesday: They cannot wear short dresses or use cosmetics.

Wednesday: Girls must carry dolls at least nine inches tall. Sophomores may borrow dolls if they so desire.

Special Events:

1. There is to be a cross country run in which all first year men must participate, date to be announced later.
2. A Freshman convocation will be held during this week in the Auditorium for the purpose of entertaining the upper-classmen extemporaneously. The day will be announced later.

A Freshman Writes Home

B.S.T.C.
November 7, 1928.

Dear Folks:

Say, this is some place! I wish that all you folks could see it. On the tower they have a clock almost as big as the one on the courthouse at the county seat at home. Believe me, Buffalo is bigger than Mud Banks is.

They got part of a farm around the buildings here, and they even got a home Ec room. I guess good food don't give them enough trouble.

The funniest thing they got up here is a game they call basketball. I played it the other day, and I liked it. It is real simple. I'll tell you how we did it. We went on different sides and a girl threw up the ball between two people and they jumped up after it and hit it right toward me. I grabbed it and ran toward the end of the gym and everyone began laughing and calling for me to stop but I didn't pay any attention to them. When I got to the end of the gym I threw the ball at a funny iron thing with lace hanging on it, but somebody must have moved it because I never even came near the board it's fastened to. The other players showed me I was wrong, so I began to play rough with them. (I showed them the old Mud Banks spirit). I pushed and hit a few smart girls and was suddenly put off the floor by the boss of the team. She must have thought I was the ball, because she tried to throw me around.

Gee, I'm popular up here. Upper classmen send me all over the building to get things for them, and I have been asked to join some sororities, too. (You know, folks, sister clubs.)

Give my regards to everybody, and tell the preacher and news men to tell everyone you heard from me.

Your daughter,
Theresa Green.

FRATERNITIES

The Fleet

*Winged argosies of Greek ensign,
Sails filled by work and play
Will cut through rippling waves of time,
To speed upon their way.*

*Their cargo is the precious gold
Of brotherhood and love;
It glows from stem to bow, in hold;
While guard is kept above.*

*The ballast 'faith' gives poise to each,
As on these vessels ride.
The goals stretch far which they would reach,
Yet fear will not abide.*

*Heave-Ho, haul in the anchor ropes—
The driving winds are sweet;
And it is good to be aboard
A vessel of our fleet!*

Panhellenic Association is made up of three representatives from each of the seven sororities. It acts as a forum for the discussion of questions of national and local sorority interests; fixes the date of bid day, passes and enforces rush rules, encourages inter-sorority spirit and cooperation, and fosters active interest of all chapters in college activities.

A C T I V I T I E S

The students' extra-curricular activities afford rich opportunities for fellowship, and for the cultivation of lasting friendships. These activities include the self-government projects which are in process of development; and they also include a wide variety of offerings which constitute attractive invitations to undertake certain lines of effort, for the enjoyment of the activities and the pure satisfactions to be gained from them. Each successive student generation profits by the experiences of those which have preceded it, but enjoys a fine freedom in expressing its own interests and working in those directions most interesting and attractive to it.

The Social Program Committee, recognizing the cultural and developmental value of extra curricular activities and believing that successful participation in such pursuits is a professional asset to the teacher, has done much towards building and administering a program of such activities for the enrichment of the students' extra-curricular life.

The Committee aims to cultivate an appreciation of these activities on the part of the students, and encourages participation in them. It acts in the capacity of counselor to many organizations experiencing difficulties and to groups of students who desire to organize for some new activity. This committee also serves the entire college by electing representatives to intercollegiate associations, and by aiding in the selection of students to receive scholarships. It is also responsible for the selection of the committee which edits the Student Handbook, and for the selection of the editor-in-chief of The Elms.

The Social Program Committee operates by means of sub-committees. These sub-committees are: (1) a personnel sub-committee acting in an advisory capacity when organizations have referred to them in such matters as awarding scholarships; (2) a sub-committee in charge of the point system which regulates the extra curricular activities; (3) an extension sub-committee to which new organizations come for advice and admittance, and also anyone in need of help; (4) a sub-committee which has charge of class elections; (5) an appointed committee to edit the Student Handbook; (6) a finance supervision, which has oversight of the finances of all college organizations among the students; and (7) an athletic control sub-committee which has general supervision of the athletic activities of the college.

Basketball Team Song

Ready all! Get a start!
Down the court! To do your part!
Give to T. C. a vict'ry again.
Set the pace! Ev'ry one!
Work until the game is done,
Give to T. C. a vict'ry again.

Chorus:
Oh, How they play, All out to win today,
Lift up your voices to the team! RAH! RAH!
For they'll fight, fight,
Fight with all their might,
For the Orange and Black's esteem.
KEEP ON PLAYING! (shouted)
For the Orange and Black's esteem.

Pass it in! Hear us shout!
Steady on the toss, ol' scout,
Give to T. C. a vict'ry again.
Forge ahead! Raise the score!
Play to win! Like teams of yore!
Give to T. C. a vict'ry again.

Snappy play! Soon will tell,
Get that basket! Hear us yell!
Give to T. C. a vict'ry again.
Shoot! Shoot! That's the kind,
Leave your rivals far behind,
Give to T. C. a vict'ry again.

The Basketball Team

The prospects for a really great team this year were early manifest by the return of four lettermen: Captain Jerry Wilker, high scoring center; Eddie Whittington, fast little forward; Bill Jackson, forward or guard; and the reliable Earl Sharrow. Besides these regulars, there proved to be a wealth of reserve material; men who last year battled daily to oust the regulars from their positions. Among these were Granny Owens, Sig Wojnowski, Bob May, and Eppy Uhl. Uhl was later to prove to be of varsity calibre, taking a regular guard position.

After the first few practices, a young, curly-headed lad attracted the attention of Coach Grabau, and it soon became evident that it would be difficult to keep him off the Varsity team. This prediction became true in the second game of the season, when, through the enforced absence of Captain Wilker, the name of Bill Schill appeared in the line-up. He played a hard, fast game, and thereafter bore the brunt of the Orange and Black offensive with Eddie Whittington in every game.

With the addition of Newt Bates, who learned his basketball in Amsterdam, the team was complete and ready to start the 1929 season: Captain Wilker at the pivot position; Whittington at forward, teamed with either Jackson or Schill who alternated at guard and forward; Uhl, playing the other regular guard position, and Sharrow also ready to step in at guard. Bates, May, and Wojnowski were held in reserve.

THE SEASON

The season as a whole was a very extraordinary one. The team had its ups and downs—the ups very high, and the downs quite low. Most of the early games were discouraging, while the closing contests showed the finest basketball of the year.

The Basketball Team

State opened in an unimpressive manner, and did not improve until the Alumni game during Christmas week. The fine showing here was indicative of the real ability of our men. Following this the team again slumped in the next two contests. Then, against Geneseo, the Orange proved victorious. But for three games after this, State dropped each game. The reaction to these losses was seen in the Canisus game, in which discouragement must have been a big factor in our defeat.

And then a week later the Varsity seemed a new team when they outclassed the strong Alfred University quintet. In a game at Cortland, State dropped its last game of the 1928-1929 season.

The Orange and Black played great basketball in the last three games, completely outplaying Mechanics Institute, Geneseo, and Fredonia. In the Mechanics game, State displayed team work and accuracy in shooting that bewildered the Rochester team. In both the other games our team had to out-fight the opposition. These games were thrillers, and the rooters from Buffalo were on edge from start to finish.

The return to form and the whirlwind finish made up for the early season reverses, and gave Coach Grabau and his men a satisfaction that comes when success has marked the close of a season.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE SEASON

Our first victory in collegiate competition—against Alfred.

After suffering a bad defeat on our court, Geneseo came back to give State the greatest battle of the season. The crowd was nearly hysterical from the thrills of the contest.

Billy Schill walked off with scoring honors this season. During his best game—at Rochester—he scored 17 points.

The Basketball Reserves

The success of the Varsity Basketball Team has been due in the past few years in a large measure to the spirit of the Reserve players. The Reserve team was used in all the practice sessions against the Varsity squad—and this often proved anything but fun. However, faithfulness and love of the game induced the men to give their services.

Manager Hyman completed a stiff schedule for the season. Seventeen games were played at home and abroad.

A number of veterans of last year's Reserves were ready to start the season. Sig Wojnowski was named captain of the team. The other names that appeared in the line-up were those of John Arcara, Bob May, Granny Owen, and Wes Snyder. The Freshman Class contributed some good players, who rounded out the squad.

THE SEASON

The season opened with a bonafide Freshman team taking the floor against the U. of B. Frosh. This game went to the Bulls by a safe margin.

The rest of the schedule was played by the usual Reserve team. Games were booked with Canisus Frosh, prep schools, and vocational schools in the vicinity. The results were satisfactory, for the Orange and Black came in ahead in over half the games played.

Fredonia Reserves, ancient rivals, won both games against our men this season in a home and home series. The Orange could not, however, tally a victory against our local college rivals, the U. B. and Canisus Frosh.

Sig. Wojnowski led his men in every battle by his display of spirit and fight in every minute of play. Bates, York, May, Owen, and Clugston played consistently good games all season. In fact, the whole team did almost uniformly well, and the names of Pike, Sheppard, Verber, Schneider, MacDaniels, and Bashford must be mentioned.

Baseball — 1929

Baseball in its second year at State Teachers College is, at the time of writing, quite an uncertain thing. With a promise of a fine team, the prospects were very bright. But this was before that ungracious visitor, bad weather, had been anticipated.

A year ago, when baseball was first introduced into our athletic program, the schedule was played entirely, with the result that a number of good players were developed. Eight letter men returned to the diamond this spring, to form the nucleus of a letter team. Eddy Whittington was elected captain as first practice was called, and George Schultz was named manager. The returned veterans were: Eddy Whittington, pitcher; George Hatch, Earl Sharrow, LeGrand Owen, and Jerry Wilker, infielders; Carleton Wagner, Norman Janowsky, and Leigh Auchmoody, outfielders.

The Freshman class gave the team good material. In catching and hitting the team was materially strengthened.

As this Annual goes to press, the team is gloomy over the weather, but confident concerning its ability. Two games have been cancelled on account of rain; however the men have been working faithfully between rainstorms and snow, and appear ready to play off the remaining games in fine style.

Tennis

The prolonged inclement weather during the month of April and early in May interfered with the carrying out of proposed plans for extensive tennis activities.

At a meeting held early in April, twenty-two candidates for the tennis team registered with the squad. Many of these men have had considerable experience as tennis players, and prospects for a successful team are therefore bright. Several of the squad members have also played in local and out-of-town tournaments.

Until this time of writing it has been impossible for the squad to have outdoor practices, because rainy weather has retarded and prevented work on our own tennis court, as well as on the courts at the Front, which our players hope to use for tournament and team matches.

In spite of this handicap many members of the squad have practiced in the college gymnasium for several weeks.

One match has been definitely arranged with the team representing Canisus College, Buffalo. This contest is to be played on the Delaware Park courts on Saturday, May 18. Other matches are pending.

Before the end of the season a tournament will be conducted for the members of the tennis squad.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL CHAMPIONS

Girl's Basketball

Basketball is the major winter sport in girls' athletics. More than one hundred girls took part in basketball during this season. Approximately thirty-six games were played on Tuesdays and Thursdays, along with a great number of practices.

The general plan of the games is class tournament with the goal of being chosen to the Orange or Black Teams when all the "champs" from all the sections and classes have played against each other.

At first the Freshman sections play against each other, and any team defeated twice is out of the tournament. The same applies to the upper class games. The undefeated Freshman team then plays against the undefeated upper class team for the championship of the college. Section VII was the undefeated Freshman team; and Second Year Grammar Section II won the championship of the college.

The players on Second Year Grammar II's team were:

Grace Martiny	Doris Staby	Bernice Newman
Helen Meinicke		Thelma Swachamer

The Freshman Champs were:

Nella Sims	Margaret Ralph	Nahoma Rosenblum
Ethel Simmons		Leona Shetter

The Orange and Black teams are chosen by the vote of their teammates with the confirmation of the Health Education Staff. These teams represent the best players of all sections that qualified in the annual series.

Why My Students Like Me

A Faculty Symposium

(Guess who wrote these. Answers on page 233.)

I.

That precious little thing called student love
I have labored without ceasing to attain,
Even prayed for guidance from above
And still the answer comes, "Try again."

"Make the work easy" is my motto.
I never ask a question of the class
And give no exams unless I've got to—
They love this type of method, every lass.

As I want all my students to love me,
I'm liberal with my A's and B's.
I criticise nothing, but give praises,
And urge everyone to take his E's.

II.

I am not at all sure that I am popular with my classes except on Wednesday noon before the Christmas or Easter vacations. Assuming a limited popularity, however, I am sure it can be explained by certain well formulated procedures. Long ago I discarded tests and examinations. This met with such popular approval that I decided to see if class assignments could be discarded as well. Upon consultation with my classes I found that they were quite willing to forego all assignments. I do not think that I should take any step involving the conduct of the class without consulting the judgment and convenience of the class. Consequently, we have no nine o'clock classes and no classes after two. The afternoon classes interfered with matinees it was found. It has not seemed wise to insist on prompt attendance as I know my students are busy people with a great many extra-curricular activities which are absolutely essential to their scholastic careers.

For several years it has seemed to me that class reports and note books were an annoyance to the students in my class. Realizing that to keep the young people satisfied was very essential in order that their S—R bonds might operate successfully, I have gradually eliminated these sources of irritation. Our class periods are now used as periods for the discussion of the various topics of the day and for social intercourse.

Why My Students Like Me

III.

"RAIN OR SHINE" you "CAN'T HELP LOVIN' DAT MAN" when "RIGHT OUT OF HEAVEN" "BILL" with the "MANHATTAN WALK" says with a "CRAZY RHYTHM," "TRY THEM OUT AT THE DANCES" "IN THE BLUE SHADOWS"—

"'S WONDERFUL" how "FOR ONCE IN A LIFE TIME" "I WANT TO BE BAD," but "I'LL GET BY" with a "RAINBOW ROUND MY SHOULDER" for it's "THE MAN I LOVE."

IV.

The basic assumption implied in the title is incorrect in my own case, at least. Hence, the writing of this assignment becomes for me the fruitless task of finding reasons for a condition which does not exist. For the above and other good reasons I suspect this assignment of being in the nature of a satire (and not a very subtle one at that) on some of the assignments of my co-freres.

But to the point of this otherwise pointless task. Four reasons for this non-existent condition suggest themselves to me at the moment, but let me point out that they would serve equally well as reasons why my students dislike me. They are: One, because I place responsibility for class preparation upon the students; two, because I know the names of only a few of my students; three, because I mark on the distribution curve; and four, because I take great care to have my tie match my socks.

V.

My students like me because I am fair, fat and forty. They say fat people always have good dispositions. A second reason is that they admire my costume jewelry which always matches my dresses; this one, and the other one. Of course, my students like the fact that they get credit for a bright idea; in fact, any idea at all.

The Merrill-Palmer School

The Merrill-Palmer school in Detroit, Michigan was established in 1920 by Mrs. Lizzie Merrill-Palmer for the furthering of Home Economics education. Twelve colleges of high standing have made co-operative arrangements with the Merrill-Palmer school whereby Home Economics students may study without loss of credit in their own college. Buffalo State Teachers College sends two representative seniors each year. The class of 1929 was represented by Miss Josephine Burke and Miss Nita LeCocq.

REMINISCENCES.

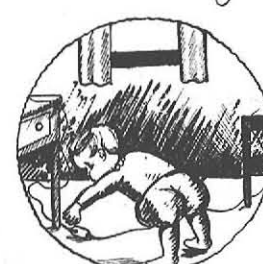

Remember the pretty cashiers in the cafeteria? You could never fool them with a car token.

How about some modernistic chairs for assembly?

Who suggested a modern stairway?

When Master William of the Practice House investigated the lamp plug? What he really wanted was some noise!

When you asked the child who Killed "Cock Robin", and she answered, "Look in the 'Evening Graphic'."

(FROM - THE WONDER HAT Harlequin - "I wonder how" I can make her hate me! Columbine - "O invisible voice! You must love!" Harl. - That's easy! I'll make love to dear Margot! Margot - "Do yuh want my honest opinion?" This is so sudden!

FRESHMEN RESOLVE TO ADMIT STUPIDITY

At a special meeting of the Freshman Class last week a resolution was adopted whereby the class admitted its general lack of intelligence.

EDITORIAL

In a magazine of literary review, an eminent English critic praises the rising American culture as manifested by the popularity of the classic drama in the American theaters and of the best of literature in the American home.

The leisure which our wealth has given us is being utilized very worthily, he continues, and will eventually result in the development of a civilization which will surpass all the cultures of the past.

A few more instances of such pretty rationalization and cooperation between the English diplomats and literary critics will do more to bring peaceful relations between the two countries than any peace treaty or disarmament conference.

Note: We are not malnourished and therefore cannot use this machine. We will loan it out to any Freshman, however.

FACULTY NOTES

Mr. Gorham was seen downtown eating lunch with a newspaper. Some enterprising reporter reported it as big news.

Mr. DeMond is going to give an objective examination on Friday. Everybody be there.

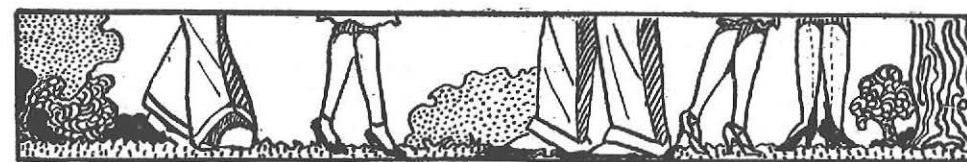

Mr. Bruce wore the same tie every third day for four months, reports the girl who sits in front row in his Principles class.

Dr. Messner bawled out one of his students the other day because she was studying too hard.

Mr. Steel announces that he will pass anyone in his Jr. H. S. Organization class who can tell him what word is at the beginning of the tenth line of the forty-first page of the text.

An alternative will be given the students in regard to the writing of term papers in the same course. Either the student write a term paper or he take a flunking mark.

ARE WOMEN LOGICAL

*who want their hardest tasks
by hand?*

IRONING is the hardest task of all. Yet many a woman who uses an electric cleaner to do the sweeping, an electric washer to do the washing—still continues to iron by hand.

Be logical. Do you ironing with an electric ironer . . . in a third the time. Come into our store or see your nearest electrical dealer. See how you can sit comfortably while you iron shirts and children's dresses as well as flat pieces . . . for less than five cents a week.

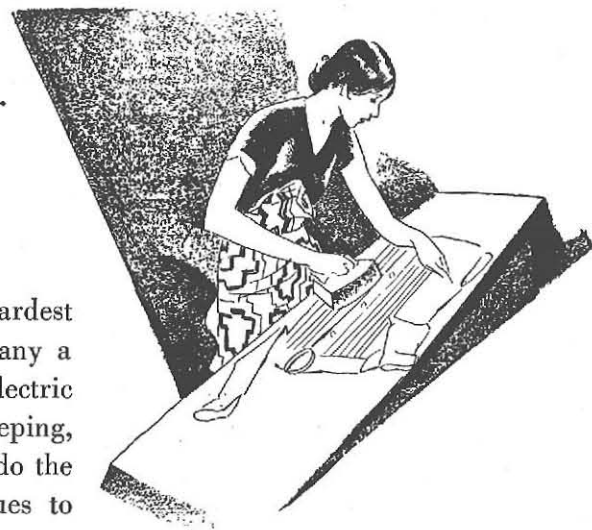

Never before has your electricity cost so little. Interconnected plants of the Niagara Power System supply electric service where and when it is needed at the lowest possible cost. Generating expenses have been reduced to a minimum. Operating costs have been lowered. All these savings are reflected in your monthly bill.

Make A. M. & A.'s Your Store-Home

While You Are Here at School

THIS Store has been serving Buffalo and its vicinity for three generations . . . very likely at some time during that period it has served some of your own family . . . offering only worthy merchandise . . . and making sure that that merchandise is both style-right and price-right . . . at all times. So we invite you to make this your store-home while here at school.

THEN we feel very sure you will wish us to continue to serve you after you have graduated . . . no matter where you go . . . through our Personal-Mail-Order Shopping Bureau.

HOW TO DANCE

Be bold, dancing is a matter of confidence. Go up to the best dancer on the floor and ask her for a dance. When the music starts, go into a clinch and shove off. Pilot her in a circular course around the floor. If you bump any one, glare and he will apologize. If you step on your partner's toes, be polite, you can even pardon her. If you stumble, tell her you are trying a new step; even offer to show it to her. If any thing not mentioned happens, blame it on the floor, say it is too slippery or not slippery enough. Talk a lot throughout the dance to ease the agony. When the music stops, escort her to her seat and thank her for the dance. Find another partner and proceed as before.

The Maiden's Bugbear

I.

They say the mirror tells no lies,
Yes, this is sad but true,
Oh, I never really realized
What a looking-glass could do.

II.

It's all right for pretty faces
And softly combed hair
For dainty clothes and laces
And slinky forms so rare.

III.

But when the monster "Avoirdupois"
Envelopes us in his mesh
Tell me how can we please the boys
If we have put on flesh?

IV.

Sometimes we wish Shylock were here,
To take a pound from us
But he is gone forever, I fear
So why kick up a fuss?

V.

The only thing for us to do
Is to start in to reduce
Get out our corsets and lemons too
And put them back in use.

VI.

Then perhaps our swelled-up shapes
Will shrink to their former lines
From the ogre's clutches we may escape
And lure men from the stag lines.

VII.

Oh, I look for the day when food and drink
Will make us so fairy-like
That we won't have to rise from our meals
To take off weight by a hike.

VIII.

But such a day is just a myth
No use in bringin' up that
So I guess I'll end this sordid tale with
"Oh, ain't it fierce to be fat?"
