• We dedicate this volume of The Elms to the memory of Dr. George B. Neumann. An instructor with lofty standards and a fine sense of values, he saw both sides of every matter. He was a master teacher. He lived as he taught and his lesson was: "Don't condemn... understand."

THE CLASS OF 1937

Four years ago a Class entered State Teachers imbued with a spirit unique in the history of the College. Soon this Class is to leave, but the feeling of a job well done and the satisfaction which comes from giving the best, softens and provides the cadence necessary to an easy parting.

As Freshmen we quickly adjusted ourselves to our new life and set about to build a "Class consciousness" that was to carry us unified through four glorious years of college.

As Sophomores we "painted the lily a-la Fred Waring" and tunefully won the Inter-class Sing. Not content with this, we paraded the gods on "Mount Olympus" and won the Annual Stunt Night. As a matter of record, each of four years has found one or more sections from the Class of '37 in first or second place on Stunt Night.

Our Junior year was sobered somewhat by practice teaching assignments, yet Stunt Night and the Inter-class Sing again found us in the win column and a Junior Prom was held which is still the goal of other classes.

Now our Senior year is fast drawing to a close. Our song writers, our singers; our playwrights, our actors; our athletes and our boosters;—our whole Class—only too well realizes this. Our under-graduate days are soon ended—Class Sings, Stunt Nights, Junior Proms, Senior Balls, Moving Up Days, are all fond memories. To that degree to which we participated in these events do we now feel a corresponding loss, and we sing with heavy hearts of "College days, too soon gone."

Baccalaureate, Class Day and Graduation gracefully conclude our stay at State. Yet that which State has meant to us and that which we have contributed to the tradition and life of State will always live in the hearts of the Class of 1937.

THE CLASS OF 1938

The first class of "guinea pigs" which the College has ever known is the Class of 1938. This group has patiently borne every attempt at experimentation which the administration has inflicted upon them and is ready to endure still more for the cause of educational progress.

That the experiment has thus far been a success is attested to by their many achievements attained during the year 1936-37. Encouraged by a notable class spirit, the Juniors surpassed all other classes in the Inter-Class Sing, and won the banner which they hope to recapture next year.

The Junior Prom, held December 20, in the ballroom of the Consistory, was an event long to be remembered by all who attended. The members of the class who served on the various committees for this affair are to be commended for their successful efforts.

January examinations over, half of the class began their practice teaching, the test of the two-and-a-half year experiment which began with their admission as freshmen in 1934. These Juniors had an advantage over all preceding groups of practice teachers in that they had spent eight hours a week during the first semester participating in teaching activities at the School of Practice.

As an added advantage, their background in the subject matter of the elementary grades has been improved by their attendance at remedial classes in these subjects. Critic teachers recognized their teaching ability and these Juniors give promise of being very successful in their chosen work. This half of the class has set a precedent for the others to follow and there is every indication that they will be just as fortunate as their colleagues.

Moving-Up Day brought the "guinea pigs" one step nearer graduation and nearer the culmination of four years spent as material for educational experimentation.

THE CLASS OF 1939

Two down and two to go—receiving the Soph ball from the illustrious “Guinea Pigs,” the phalanx of the new curriculum, the Class of 1939 also courageously bucked its way through remedials, comprehensives, academic requirements, and extra-curricular activities.

We Sophomores take pleasure in congratulating the Freshmen upon their splendid attitude toward all concerned during “Haze” week, and their excellent orientation during the past year to the social and scholastic life of our campus. It is our belief that we have succeeded in bringing up a class this year that will not only be instrumental in furthering the prestige of the College, but one that will be ably qualified to train the neophytes of 1941.

During the year the “sophisticated” Sophs made claim for college honors through their participation in dramatics, music, publications, debating, fraternal orders, and women’s and men’s athletics. Every phase of S. T. S. life has been directly influenced and deeply colored by the personality and achievements of the class of 1939.

Sophisticated Sophomores! We are no more! We have already passed the half-way mark of our college life, and are now being slowly evolved into the blissful but more ignorant atmosphere that surrounds a “wise” Junior.

As “wise” Juniors, may we look back upon our Frosh and Soph years and sincerely thank our Alma Mater for the good times, the worthwhile experiences, and the educational opportunities that she has so generously extended to us of 1939.

CLASS OF 1940

Freshman Camp, Freshman Daze, Faculty-Freshman Tea, and the class of 1940 was well under way.

Winning the Frosh-Soph tug-of-war was the first victory for this class of '40. Then Ray Porter and Rog Rawe placed second and third in the Annual Inter-Class Cross Country Run. True, Inter-Class Sing found the freshman "on the shelf," despite the efforts of Bob Bollard and Johnny Nichols, but the Christmas Play saw them well represented; and when the Home Economics' freshman, directed by Helen Zeder, won second prize on Stunt Nite with "Time Jeeps On," the whole college joined in pronouncing the class of '40 one of the liveliest; most ambitious, and most energetic in the history of State. Right after Stunt Nite came the Spring Concert, and the Junior Women's Glee Club, led by Jean Clark, took an active part. In addition to the runners, the class of '40 has other fine athletes. Ray Porter and William Murphy were on the Varsity Soccer Team; Louis Rosa, Paul Miller, and Sam Munich on the Varsity Basketball Team; Tom Tierney, Peter McCartan, Jerry Klawitter, Francis Schoonover, and Roger Rawe on the Swimming Team.

Among the class representatives on the Record staff are: Freddie "the freshman" Rubens, art; A. Morton Raych, rewriter; William Kackas, sports; Annette Cinn and Betty Barber, literary. Kackas, Cinn and Barber are ELMS staff members also.

The social calendar for the year included the Soph-Frosh party, Faculty-Freshman Reception, Freshman party and the Pan Hellenic tea for the Freshman co-eds.

Now is the time to speak of the Honor Roll, lest it be thought that the class of '40 is a class of extra-curricular participators only. The first semester found twenty-three freshmen listed, with Esther Becker as their highest representative. And the class of '40 ranked B. S. T. C. third among thirty-nine teachers' colleges in the country in this year's testing program! Not just another freshman class, but an outstanding freshman class, led by Ralph Upton, Tommy Asbury, Bonnie Bonnell, and Johnny Schasser.

The Class of 1940 wishes to express its appreciation through the ELMS, to the faculty, the Junior counsellors, and all others at State who helped to make '36-'37 a firm foundation for the years to come.

SOCIETIES

FRATERNITIES AND SORORITIES

"The real basis of the fraternal system in America is the fraternal bond of union, uniting the members together in a common cause for mutual beneficial purposes."

To a lower classman at State, newly elected to a fraternity or sorority comes the happy experience of realizing the significance of these words. A cross section of college life in the four classes is presented to him in the members who have become at once fraternity brothers, advisors and friends. It is the latter two capacities that are so important during one's college days and after. It is through them that the lower classmen become acquainted with college life as it is and the process of assimilation takes place.

To the individual members, fraternities and sororities offer opportunities for the development of initiative, administrative ability, and cooperation with fellow members. These members as a group can offer State much in the way of prestige by organizing themselves as loyal supporters of college affairs. State's social life is promulgated by these campus organizations and through them even non-members are included in the typical college activities. Professional, or honorary, fraternities offer, in addition to opportunities before mentioned, standards for scholastic attainment and activity. They advance the standing of our profession—teaching—in the eyes of society as a whole by recognizing and drawing attention to scholastic achievement.

The College is proud of the high type of fraternal life that has established itself on the campus. For each group, large or small, men or women, has but one ideal: that of building a better State.

Alpha Society is composed of Juniors and Seniors whose selection has been determined by the quality of their service to the College. New members are tapped annually at the Senior Ball. The purpose of this society is to encourage well directed student activities to promote high standards in existing organizations and to recognize true leadership. This year Alpha organized and ran the Organization Day Assembly, assisted at the Faculty Freshman Reception, and sponsored holly hanging.

Gamma Mu chapter of Kappa Delta Pi was established at State Teachers College in June, 1931, making State the first teacher training institution in New York State to have a chapter in that national honorary educational organization. The members are chosen from juniors and seniors in the upper quartile of scholarship, who have a creative interest in education. Kappa Delta Pi upholds high ideals of scholarship, and service in the educational field. "The Educational Forum," is published by the society.

Nu Lambda Sigma is the women's literary organization of the college. Membership is honorary. The society was founded in 1925 for the purpose of study and investigation of literary types, and of stimulating general interest in literature among the college students. This year Nu Lambda Sigma successfully sponsored a creative activity in the form of a series of lectures by students.

Sigma Upsilon, a national honorary fraternity for upper classmen requires an honor average in literature. Alpha Delta chapter was established here on March 25, 1931. As its purpose the fraternity seeks to form a bond among men of literary interests and abilities, and to help them achieve advancement in the literary field. An alumni chapter is open to those members who wish to carry on the work begun in the college chapter of the fraternity.

Alpha chapter of Delta Kappa fraternity originated at Buffalo in 1920. It was formerly known as Kappa Kappa Kappa. On May 12, 1936 the name on the crest of the fraternity was officially changed to Delta Kappa fraternity by order of the Grand Chapter. The fraternity annually publishes the Student Directory, containing names and addresses of the college students. It also presents each year the Delta Kappa Key, an award given to the senior man who excels in leadership, scholarship, and character. The fraternity colors are maroon and white.

From the relatively insignificant position which the ELMS occupied at its inception, it has risen to take the doubly important role of an integral part of college life and an illuminating reflection of it. Almost as important as the activities and organizations themselves is the immortalization of them in the pages of the ELMS. For the past few years, and it is especially true this year, the staff of the ELMS has been seeking to give students a concrete, though suggestive, recapitulation of the college year.

A QUARTER OF A CENTURY OF PROGRESS

THE RECORD. Vol. I. No. I. Buffalo, N. Y. May 1913. Published quarterly. Buffalo State Normal School. 15c a copy.

EDITORIAL

The year 1913 witnesses an important event in the first appearance of the "Record." The purpose of the "Record" is twofold: First—To encourage literary activity among the students and to maintain a high standard of literary excellence; Second—To furnish the friends of the school with a means of keeping in touch with its various interests. Normal school students are too busy to do much literary work. We are especially proud of that which has been done. As this is the first issue of our paper, the Editors have had unusual problems to solve and difficulties to overcome. We appreciate the support which the school has given us and feel assured that each succeeding issue of the "Record" will outshine the one before it. We look forward to a time in the near future when the "Record" will be ranked among the best school chronicles.

CONSTITUTION OF THE RECORD

ARTICLE II. OBJECT

The object of this publication shall be to give information, to stimulate student thinking, to elevate student conduct and scholarship, and to provide a forum for student-faculty opinion.

The expressed purpose of twenty-five years ago has been realized many times in the intervening years, years that will never be forgotten by the world—war years, years of plenty, and depression years. Although in its metamorphosis the Record has changed from a magazine to a newspaper, it has kept alive the desire of the first staff "to maintain a high standard of literary excellence" in its annual Literary Art Issue. The alumni column is the bond among the scattered graduates. Of necessity the Record has changed in form and style to meet the demand of new times and personalities. That is ample proof of the Record's practicality—its ability to meet the challenge of each new generation.

Those who remember the Record from "way back when" say that in this twenty-fifth year, more than any other year, the Record has fulfilled all aspirations made for it by the first staff and this staff of 1937. Through the efforts of the present Editorial Board, the Record has become a successful five-column newspaper, always progressive, printing for its readers not only the best State has to offer, but also the best that other colleges have expressed so that we "Teachers" may read and know the best colleges' news and opinions.

The final desire of the staff of 1913, that "The Record will be ranked among the best school chronicles of the State," has become a reality; for the Record is on a par with the best papers of the New York State's Teacher Training Institutions. In addition, it has received national recognition. Long affiliated with the Columbia Scholastic Press, the Record now is a member of the Associated Collegiate Press.

With these twenty-five years in retrospect, we of State Teachers College raise a new challenge to our Record—one that we have every right to believe it will meet—"On to greater journalistic achievements."

The Handbook is an annual faculty-student publication. It is issued to the students in September to acquaint them with traditions, customs, rules, and important interests of the college. It is particularly valuable to the Freshmen as a guide book.

The '37-'38 Handbook will have a novel feature in its new plates—a diagram of the student center, a map of Buffalo, and a photograph of the facade of the main building.

MUSICAL ORGANIZATIONS

The role of music in college life has come to be an important one at State. Our musical faculties are many and varied, and offer an opportunity for everyone who so desires to take part as a performer, or as a listener.

This year we experienced a valuable addition to our resources in the field of music in the form of a fine Hammond organ, which has greatly added to the enjoyment of the assembly programs.

Singing assemblies have become very popular because of the social exhilaration which is derived from community singing. Special talent on the part of students is featured on such occasions.

The various glee clubs combine with the orchestra and individuals to produce a spring concert of great worth. The glee clubs also contribute to the assembly programs, notably at Christmas.

The growth of the Band has been watched and applauded by students who find it excellent in creating enthusiasm at basketball games.

Membership in the orchestra is open to all who are interested in the activity. It provides music for the assemblies and plays on special occasions.

Also contributing to a broader interest in music are the various concerts given in our auditorium throughout the year by the Buffalo Symphony Orchestra under the direction of France Autori.

The Men's Glee Club is the only musical organization of its kind for men. The men sing for their own enjoyment and development and to entertain audiences. Their cooperation with the Dramatic Club in our Christmas program and their participation in the Spring Concert and several assemblies have been deeply appreciated. We hope that they will continue this activity of unquestionable personal value and also of service to the college.

Les Amateurs de la France was first organized in the Autumn of 1935. Since that time its membership has grown so rapidly that there can be no doubt concerning its value to those who have studied or are now studying the French language. Vitality of discussion and spontaneity of conversation are outstandingly characteristic of its frequent meetings. The purpose of this organization is to foster an enthusiastic interest and appreciation of French culture, customs, and arts.

THE DRAMATIC CLUB

In recent years there has been a decided increase in interest among the people of the United States in dramatics. This interest has not only developed the movie industry from nothing to the third largest industry in the world, but it has also stimulated active participation on the legitimate stage by these movie-goers. Today, according to the magazine Stage, one out of every twenty-five individuals is acting behind footlights somewhere in the United States. Every hamlet, town, city, school, and church boasts of its individual Greta Garbos and Clark Gables, who are enthusiastically admired by their local dramatic clique.

Jane Keeler, formerly of the College faculty is directing the Buffalo Chapter in this wide-spread theatre organization. Early in the fall "The Play-goers" by Pinero was presented as a student production of the Dramatic Club for the purpose of raising money for her new Little Theatre movement.

State Teachers College also has its own individual playhouse, its own Robert Taylors, its own workshops, and its own Cecil De Milles—yes, the Dramatic Club with the combined forces of the Music, Home Economics, Industrial, and Art departments is a self-supporting theatre in itself.

This year's Christmas Play, Mona Swann's "Well of Bethlehem," involving the active participation of over 200 students, added another triumph to Miss Goossen's long list of excellent College performances. "Outward Bound," by Sutton Vane, the Spring performance of the Club completed the College cycle of production.

Not only are the Dramatic Club members increasing the reputation of the College by their talents, but they are, through professional and semi-professional appearances, reaping individual honors for themselves. The radio, Miss Keeler's Little Theatre, and other organizations that demand dramatic ability are providing mediums for this individual success.

The Drama of the College, always one of the elite forms of enjoyment, finds enthusiastic audiences in the students of the College as well as in the members of the community.

A valuable men's organization on the campus for the disbursing of the neophyte's social, physical, and mental energies is the Men's Campus Club. Through the sponsoring of Freshman Camp, the immediate admittance of "ye greenhorns" to a paternal organization, the Campus Club serves as one of the greatest orientation factors of which entering men can take advantage.

The Rural Education Club, now a member of the Country Life Association, is one of our largest and most popular organizations. Its purpose is to acquaint students with the social problems and characteristics of rural life. This year, in addition to offering lectures by prominent speakers, teachers, and students, at each monthly meeting round table discussions are held in which all are invited to participate. There are opportunities for furthering hobbies in music, crafts, dramatics, and extension work. The latter, a new feature, consists in developing a file of instructional materials to aid rural teachers and this group is co-operating with the faculty in establishing a college Bureau of Instructional Material.

Our S. T. C. branch of the Y. W. C. A. is a member of the national organization. Its frequent meetings offer excellent lectures and are seasoned with discussions of both social and religious problems. It sponsors perhaps the greatest opportunity for college orientation, Freshman Camp, usually held the weekend following registration each fall. All students are eligible for membership despite differences in individual faiths. Its social affairs afford wholesome amusement.

The Home Economics Club accepts as members all students in the Home Economics Department who have expressed their desire to join by earning the required number of points. The aim is to stimulate professional interest and provide social contacts for its members. The club is affiliated with the National and State Home Economics Association and acted as hostess to the latter at its 1937 Convention held at the Statler Hotel April 30 and May 1. The annual Stuffed Animal and the Mum Sales were for the purpose of raising money to donate to the International Scholarship Fund. The club took charge of the Home Economics activities on All-Vocational Day.

In the past year, State has annexed still greater glories in athletics. The influence of the Athletic Association has been responsible in no small way for the successes that have been ours.

The popularity of basketball has remained unchallenged by any other sport at State. Nevertheless, through the efforts of the association, soccer has gained many fans and the admiration of many competitive college teams. Increased interest in swimming has made it possible for State to exhibit its abilities to many district colleges, and another successful interclass cross-country meet has insured the permanency of this event on our sports calendar. Then too, Alumni Field has come into greater use, having been of service in soccer, baseball, tennis, archery, and track.

All of these improvements have come through the mediation of the Athletic Association with the invaluable assistance of Mr. Hubert E. Coyer and Miss Ruth E. Houston.

RESERVE BASKETBALL

Many interesting preliminaries were served up by the Reserves during the year. By far the best game was the final with the Fredonia Normal Reserves, which, unusual for a preliminary, kept the crowd on edge and cheering throughout, with State just managing to eke an 18-17 decision.

The squad, augmented by freshmen at times, consisted of Captain Benjamin Rosenthal, William Wizeman, Harold Rupp, Fred Fuller, Milton Dutcher. Bob Hickey was coach.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

With a little more seasoning, many of the Freshmen will be pushing the varsity regulars for their posts. To Bill Murphy go the plaudits for the cleverest bit of action this season: In the Niagara game, seeing an opponent dashing for the basket unhindered, Bill raced and neatly nipped his shirt from behind, thus granting him a lone penalty shot rather than the two points he was likely to have made from a basket. The squad consisted of Captain Bill Murphy, Ray Porter, Fred Weber, Chester Oleniacz, Pat Pinto, Dave Strebe, Charles Ross, Herb Zollitsch, John Finn, Roger Groth, and Coach Leo Kronman.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

CAPTAIN DAVE ZWICK

Playing its most difficult schedule, one studded with teams from leading universities and colleges, the varsity hung up the enviable record of eight wins to two losses, both to that bitter rival, Niagara University. Thus the team achieved the best percentage in the western New York area. The team returned to the heights after a lapse of a year by taking the mythical State Teacher Training Institute title, and went a step further by conquering its first major school, the University of Toronto.

Time-proven rivals held the stage in a season marked by a preponderance of home games, the exception being one trip to Monteaegle Ridge. Overflowing crowds on each home game occasion proved that the time is ripe to move the team into bigger quarters. The two Niagara games claimed their usual share of attention, seconded by the defeat of Cortland Normal. The latter defeat was inevitable, following as it did the burning of the Cortland Jinx by Psi Phi Fraternity. However, the spotlight was stolen by an under-rated Fredonia Normal outfit which kept up with State for three quarters of the game before faltering under a flashy offensive attack.

Captain Dave Zwick terminated his brilliant career at State by taking the scoring honors for the second straight year with sixty-nine points. Paul Coleman leaves behind the outstanding accomplishment of filling a regular post for four years. The third of the graduating trio, Edward Kewin, proved an invaluable asset in his short stay at State. A mid-season reinforcement in the form of six foot four Stanley Witmeyer, greatly enhanced the offensive power of the team besides nullifying height advantages possessed by opponents.

V A R S I T Y S O C C E R

The infant of varsity sports, soccer, established itself as a leading fall activity by virtue of its two wins over Colgate University and Allegheny, the first since the inception of the sport in the fall of 1934. The team earned the title of "Mudders" because of the quagmires and heavy rains they were forced to play through. Three men, Captain Jim Perona, Ray Porter, and Dave Zwick filled roles of iron men, being unsubstituted in all games.

Cortland Normal opened the season by engaging State in the first varsity match to be held on Alumni Field and eked out a 3 to 1 win. Coach Hubert Coyer introduced a new method of coaching by nervously pacing up and down the length of the field. Two complaints were received on the number of balls in the game, one from goaler Zwick, after stopping innumerable tries at the goal, and another from Crede Hagerty, after stopping a few high ones with his head.

Jim Perona led his squad to a 2 to 0 victory over Colgate, registering his second and third goals of the year. Syracuse followed up with 10 to 2, victory over State, in a game played entirely in a driving rain. The contortions in trying to stop on a slippery footing, flying spray as players slithered through puddles, the play of Syracuse's Semino, and Hagerty's breaking into the scoring column, high-lighted the contest. State closed the season with a remarkable 2 to 1 win over a tough Allegheny College squad, the final goal being scored by a swarm of players just before the closing whistle.

V A R S I T Y S W I M M I N G

Reinforced by several promising Freshmen, the varsity swimming team presented its best balanced outfit to date. This augurs well for the future destinies of the sport. Because of the dearth of suitable material in this area, Canadian squads were invited to participate in the always popular basketball-swimming double-headers.

Both meets in the win column were of the nip-and-tuck variety, with the final relays deciding both. Opposing the cream of the Canadian swimmers, three men were able to set new pool records: Urho Saari, in the 50 yard free style (25 $\frac{3}{8}$) and in the 100 yard breast stroke (1:12 $\frac{4}{8}$) Tom Tierney in the 200 yard (2:20) and the 400 yard (5:21 $\frac{3}{8}$) free style; and Russell Barrowman in the 50 yard backstroke event (0:34).

CHEER LEADERS

Caryl Hedden

Fred Rubens

Fran Conrad

Good organized cheering is impossible without efficient leaders. That vociferous trio, Caryl Hedden, Fran Conrad, and Fred Rubens, very capably wheedled out every bit of power from the collected lungs in both assemblies and on the court.

GOLF

Aware of the popularity of the ancient game of "gowlf," State has engaged in spring and fall matches with neighboring institutions, namely, Canisius College, the University of Buffalo, and Niagara University. Although many members of the team have graduated, several freshmen and a few upperclassmen who couldn't keep their love of the game a secret, organized themselves into another strong squad. Michael Feniello, the lone survivor, led his cohort, including Bernard Deazley and Robert Flanigan to the wars.

TENNIS

Because of the short season, a limited but difficult schedule including district colleges and universities will be attempted this spring. This season's squad is built around a group of veterans including Bobby Reist, Al Lindemann, Paul Hirseman, Edward Sikorski, Philip Pohlman, and Ray Wagner.

MEN'S INTRAMURAL ACTIVITIES

The college intramural program enjoyed much greater success than realized in former years, primarily because of the efficient manner in which it was conducted by Intramural Manager, Howard Miller, aided by his two assistants, Donald Clark, and Harold Finn. The same spirit of good sportsmanship, good clean fun, and friendliness prevailed at all times.

The Freshmen usurped most of the honors during the fall by winning team honors in the soccer and cross-country events. With Jack Curry and Fred Rubens notching up scores in the second overtime period, the Frosh defeated the Sophomores for the soccer title, 2 to 0. Although Ray Ast, Sophomore, paced the field to win the fourth annual cross-country run by fifty yards, the Frosh added Paul Miller, John Finn, and Bill Kackas, to Ray Porter's second, and Roger Rawe's third to take team honors. Porter kept the precedent of having a Freshman take either first or second place in the annual event intact by placing behind Ast.

Basketball occupied the attention of all during the winter months, with the Industrial Arts Seniors taking the championship from the defending General College Juniors. They finished two games ahead of their closest rivals by running through a seven-game schedule undefeated.

Championships which had not been decided as the ELMS went to press were: men's badminton singles, tennis singles and doubles, softball, track, swimming, boxing, golf, ping pong, and foul shooting.

Tests for Sigma Delta Psi, national honorary athletic fraternity, were conducted throughout the year, under the supervision of Mr. Hubert Coyer.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

To make a significant generalization on women's sports, it would be enough to say that the participation numbers of this year outrank those of the previous years. Credit can be justly given to the training staff under whose supervision the women of the college are encouraged to join the various activities.

BASKETBALL

As a major sports activity for women, basketball has attracted many more participants this year than formerly. The Freshman and Sophomore teams were of especially fine calibre, making the tournament a lively contest. Winning over the Frosh Home Ec-ers, Soph Section III claimed the section championship.

An after-tournament game between the girl champions and the men faculty added novelty to the basketball schedule, and a contribution to the Joint Charities Campaign. The following girls make the 1936-37 Orange-Black Team: Seniors: Isabelle Clifford, Helen McLane, Ellen O'Brien, Grace Perry, Lois Rood. Sophomores: Kay Albrechtson, Helen Cepura, Mary Dobony, June Doyle, Margaret Felsing, Eleanor Fisher, Elizabeth Huey, Isabelle Mummert, Frances Perine, Rita Smith. Freshmen: Esther Becker, Laura Fisher, Jeanne Fleckenstein, Dorothy Johnston, Vera Kinsley, Katherine Kniffin, Patrina Militello, Margaret Miller, Amelia Woepfel.

SWIMMING

With more good swimmers entering from high school and with definite goals set for Freshmen and Sophomores participating in swimming, the interest in the pool has grown. The National Red Cross Life Saving Class has been held weekly for the advanced groups.

Whereas the Life Saving Class caters only to expert swimmers, the annual Swimming Meet makes no such demarcation. The large and varied number of events bring the Swimming Meet within reach of experts and beginners alike.

GIRLS' TENNIS

BADMINTON

With spring comes badminton. The enthusiasts for this game, and they are many, can hardly wait for the basketball tournament to finish.

Each year two tournaments are held, mixed doubles and women's doubles, to determine badminton champs on the campus. This annual contest always brings forth about thirty teams. Last year's winners of women's doubles were Eugenia Trent and Shirley Kempner. Don Clark and Marg Noonan won the mixed doubles.

TENNIS

Mr. Kronman, professional tennis player and instructor at the School of Practice, coached the women in tennis in the early fall. At the same time the players centered their attention upon a tennis tournament which excelled perhaps any tennis contest held at State. In the finals, Kathleen Wass, Senior, lost to Helen Bokus, Freshman, in a match unsurpassed on this campus.

TABLE TENNIS

Not to be outdone by other sports, table tennis enthusiasts had their own tournament. This sport is very popular, especially among members of the Freshman Class. It is seldom that the tables in the Recreation Room are not in use.

Thy life to spend
This book attend

Here's to Ray Alt
Who did once run fast

In assembly hall
We take roll call

A good shin knocker
Is Varsity Soccer

Freshman score
In Tug of War

All jeep and prance
At Soph Sweater Dance

School trolleys shake
And racket make

We live in fear
When warnings are near

Cave man days
New mural portrays

Guinea Class King
At Interclass Sing

Frosh elite
The Faculty meet

"Well of Bethlehem"
Was our Xmas gem

We dance Friday nights
To rhythm delights

Great is our fame
In the basketball game
