Final Commendation and Farewell
Home At Last

When day is done one figure turns
And says a last goodbye,
Although we cannot understand
Where they must go or why.
But as they leave our sorrow
And our sad tears behind
They move ahead to seek the peace
That every soul must find.
For now they sail a different ship
Upon a different sea,
A voyage filled with love and hope
And new discovery.
And when that journey brings them
To that distant, lighted shore,
They’ll be greeted by outstretched arms
Of those who’ve gone before.
And people they have known and loved
And voices from their past
Will be singing out the welcome news
That they are home at last.
