"A foot and light-hearted I take to the open road, Healthy, free, the world before me, The long brown path before me leading wherever I choose."

Walt Whitman

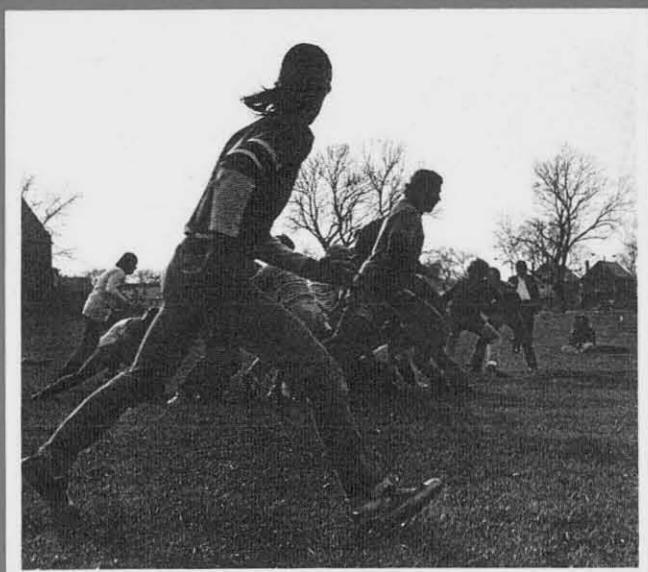

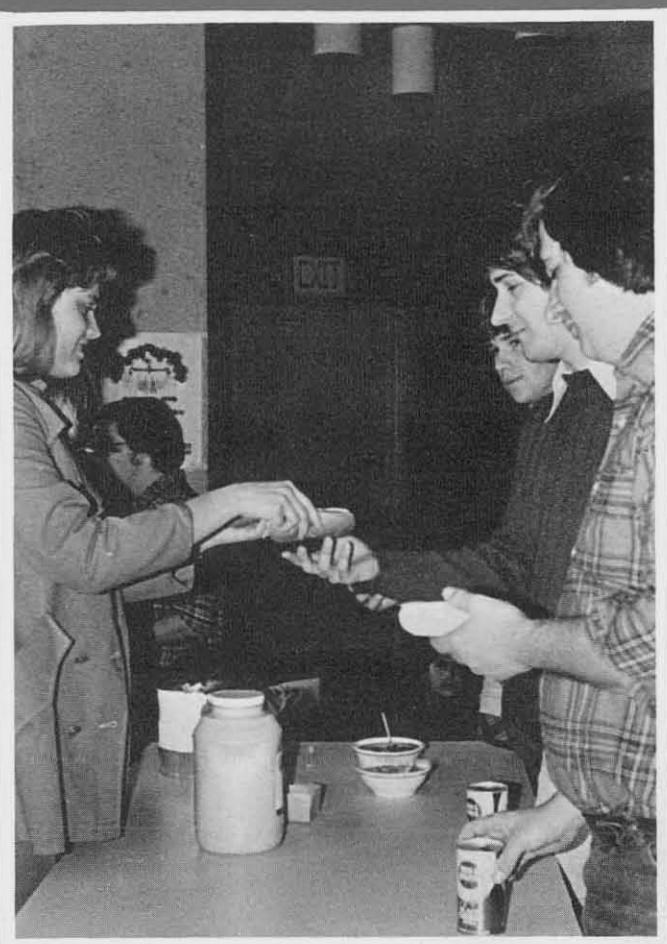

The two sororities, Pi Omega Nu and Pi Kappa Rho, are involved in several service and social activities. The highlight of the year was a casino night run by both groups in February. Membership in these sororities is open and provides a unique experience for all.

Spartans, Spartans fighting bright,
On the field from dawn to night.
Your defense is good, offense the same,
So why couldn't you win this game?

You blaze across the football field,
Blocking and tackling till others yield.
But then while high and sitting pretty,
You blow the game to the other fraternity.

Fibrosis . . . neurosis . . . psychosis . . . sclerosis! They might all sound the same, but Inter-Fraternity-Sorority Council spent a good deal of time implementing a dance marathon to benefit M.S. The dancers entered this 50 hour event full of energy and hoping to raise money for the cause. However, after two days of dancing, childhood games, and frolic, they were exhibiting some unusual symptoms. Freud said it best: "You seem to be suffering from some latent maturation neuroses."

"I like beer.
It makes me a jolly good fellow.
I like beer.
It helps me unwind and sometimes
It makes me mellow. (Makes him mellow!)"

—Song by Tom T. Hall

One day a friend and I were driving into town when we saw two outrageously beautiful girls walking along the road. In a moment of inspiration we pulled over to the side and asked, "Where's the Party?" They hopped in the car and when we wowed them, they wowed us back. Though we never found the Party, we at least felt that we were pointed in the right direction.

Later on, without our passengers, the two of us turned down a street we had never seen before and parked in front of a small tavern. We started to go in, but a bouncer appeared and said that we needed proof. We produced our driver's licenses, yet they were not sufficient. "This is the Existential Pub," he said. "In order to enter you have to prove that your life is meaningless." My friend began to do a waltz though there was no music and complained bitterly that his non-existent partner was not keeping up. Meanwhile, I put on my high school ring and broke the bouncer's nose.

We were then escorted inside and, to our amazement, the room had neither no one nor nothing in it. I ordered a dry martini and my friend ordered an olive.

Reflecting on those two girls and our search for the Party, my friend pensively asked if we could ever find the one and only girl for each one of us.

"Certainly," I said, "I've found several already."

"But I want the one and only! I want to find the ultimate; the Truth!"

"Have you tried looking in a manhole?"

"No; only Sherman is in a manhole."

"Then is Sherman the Truth?"

"But isn't Sherman dead?"

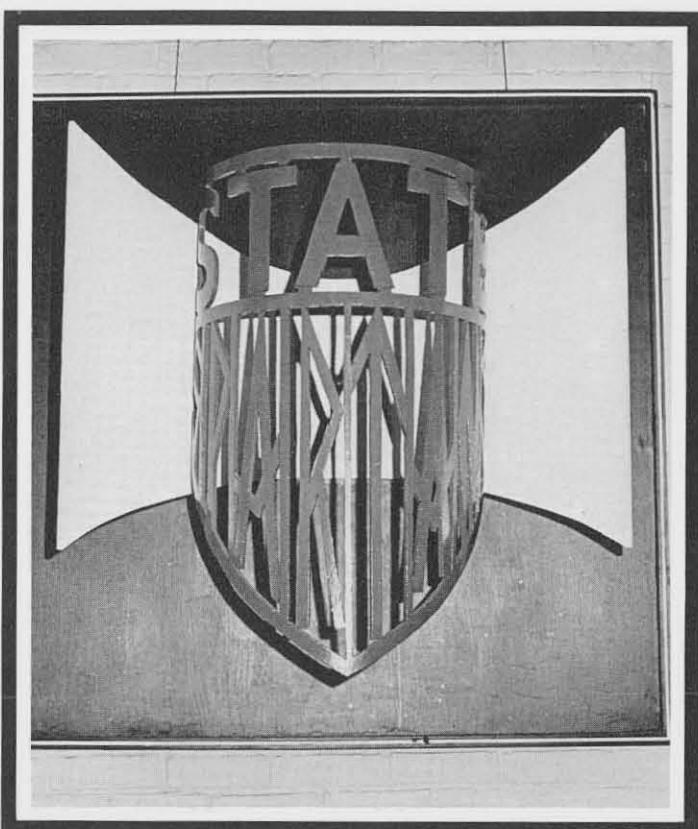

"I really don't know. Have you checked every man-hole?"

"No I haven't," answered my friend. "Have you?"

"Well, no, I haven't — Oh Wow!"

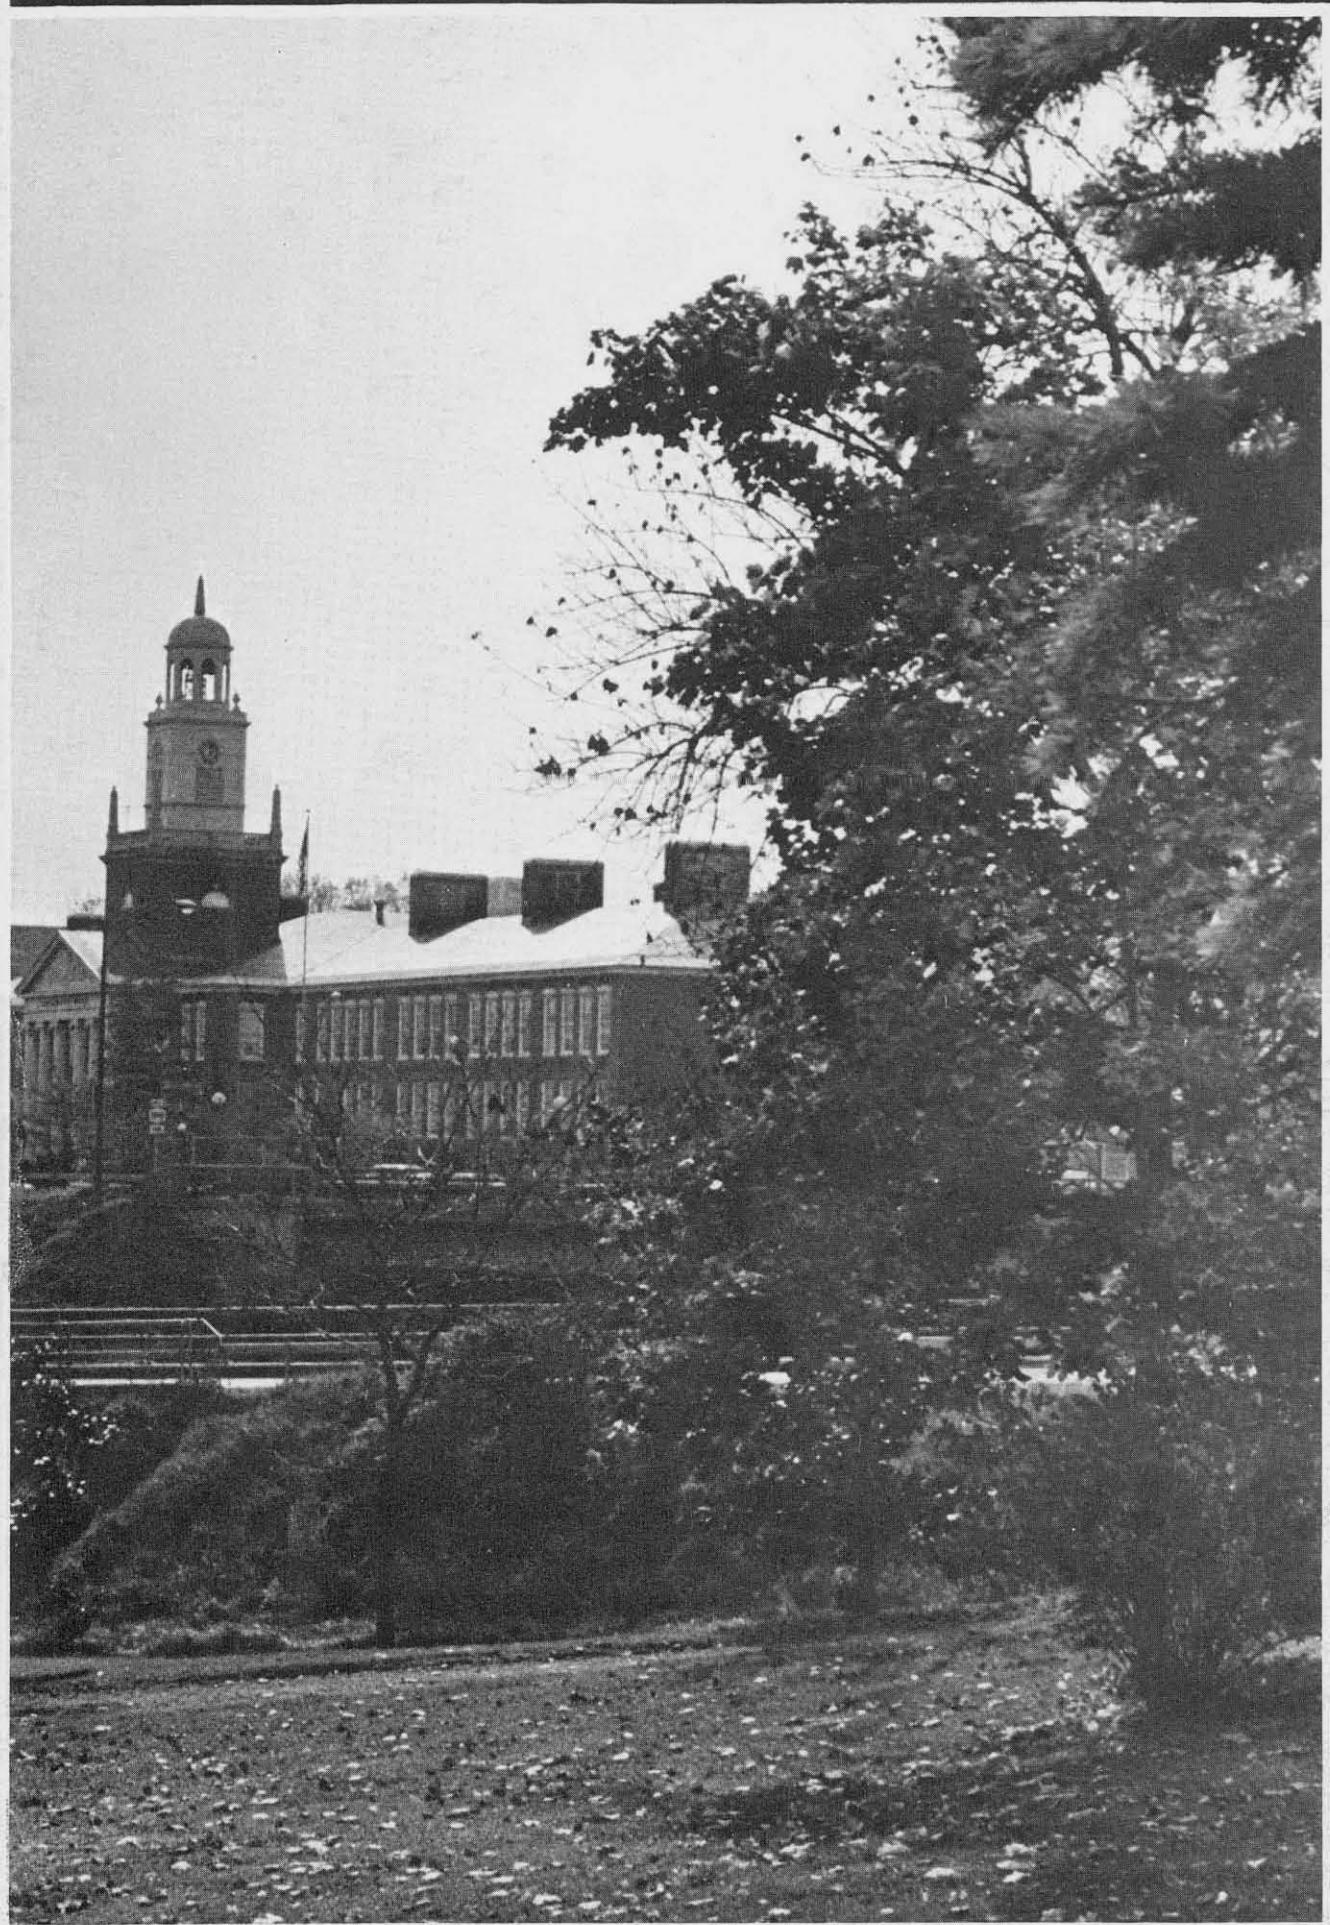

"Oh Wow!" repeated my friend. And then we cut out, this time driving with our feet.

from the outside

Poetry is the journal of a sea animal living on land, wanting to fly in the air.

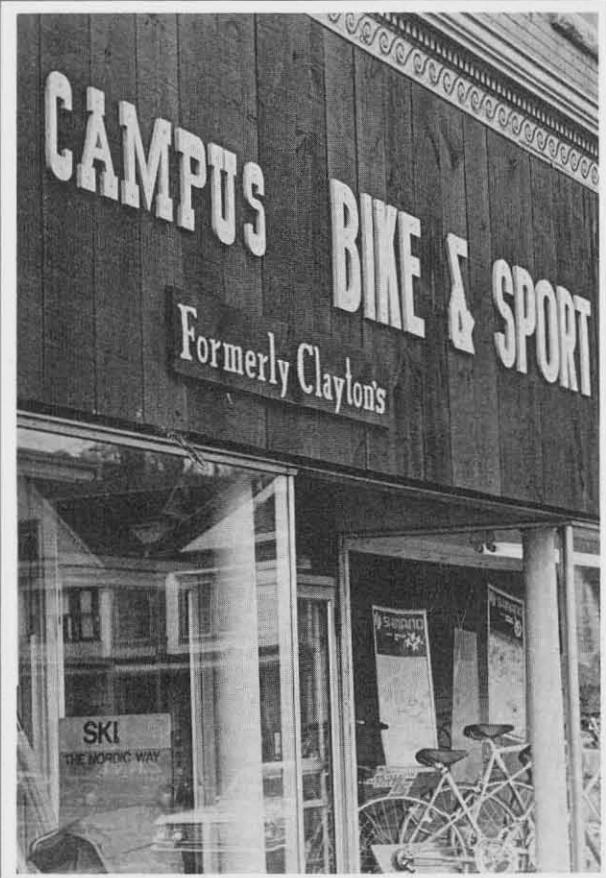

Here in the park I find beauty, peace and solitude. I also find the horror of my loneliness. Yet, if I look hard enough, I will also find you.

And if I look even harder, I might find the watch that I lost in the bushes here last spring.

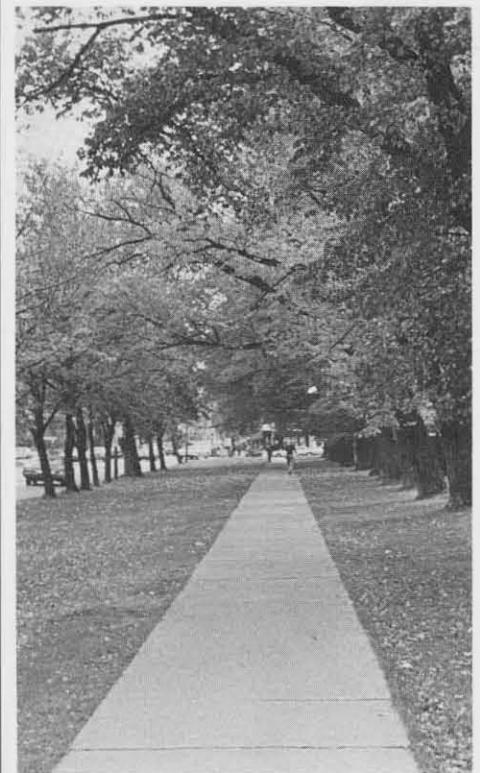

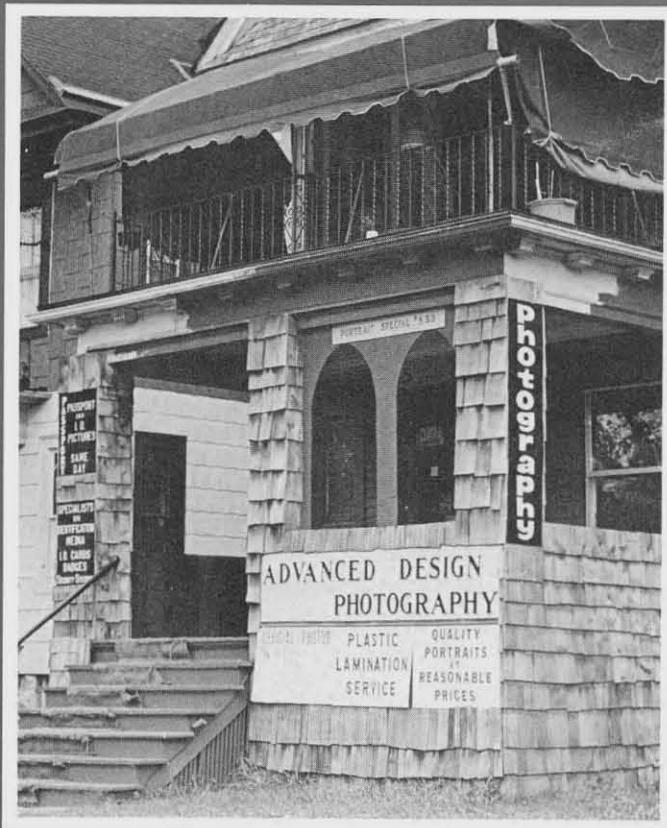

The Open Road extends down the scenario of the daytime style of Elmwood Avenue. We see trees and pleasant shops as opposed to those friendly derelicts or adolescent malcontents.

The common walkway past the State Hospital leads many of us to our old, or perhaps new, neighborhoods. Yet, in less than two years it has changed faster than some of us have.

The Print Express has pushed out the old health food store. Ray's Food King is gone, but Ray is sitting next door with his Wickware shop. A Church of Scientology now occupies Ray's old spot, but unfortunately, Ray is sitting where Buffalo's quaintest bookstore once was — until we college students could no longer support it. Even Mr. Guy's was formally DeLuigie's.

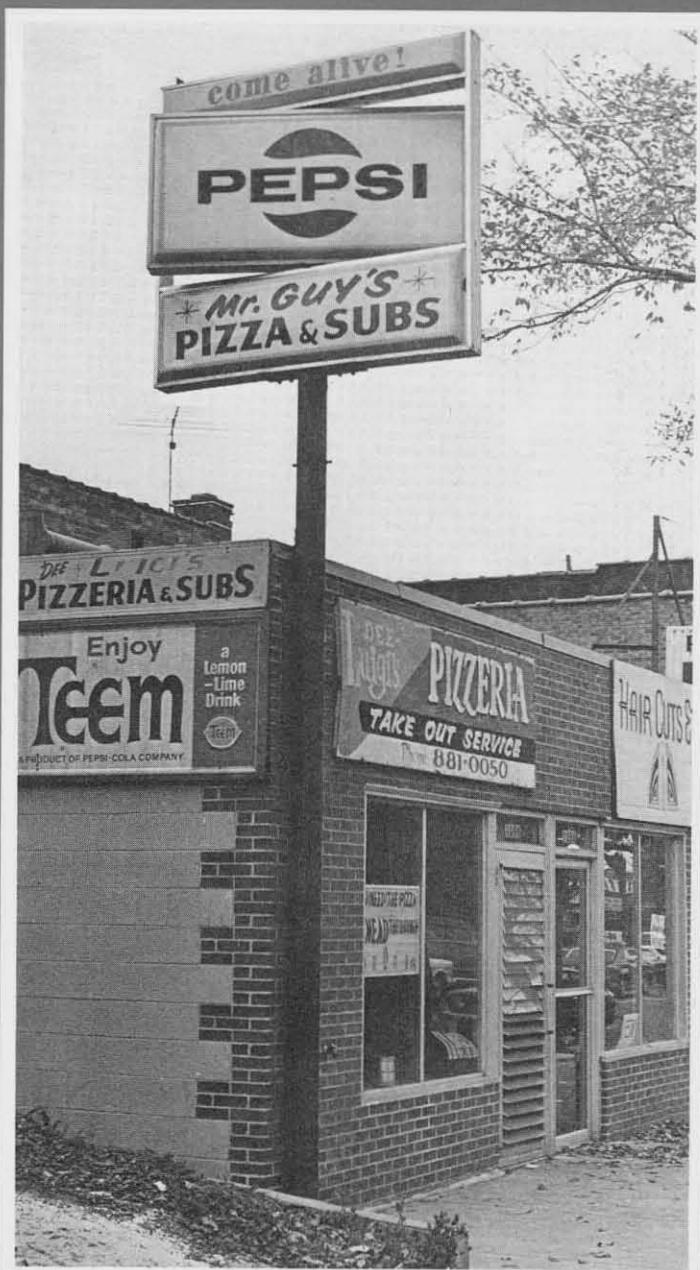

Still, the buses run on time; the bars become excellent restaurants during the day, and hurry up, because Clayton's is having a sale on yo-yos.

"Lord isn't it strange after changes upon changes we are more or less the same, After changes we are more or less the same."

—Paul Simon

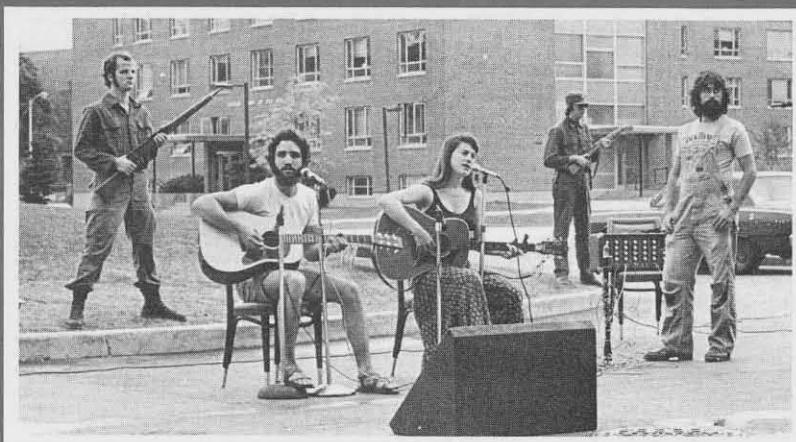

as it was

cuba si

"Stick up your hands buster, or I plug you!" became the most famous line from Casting Hall's summer production of Cuba Si, a parody of revolutionaries in New York City. Someone lost the pistol for rehearsal, so they used a BB gun instead. This was fine the first time, but the second time it happened Campus Security and the Buffalo Police came running over in a panic and were promptly told, "Stick up your hands buster, or I plug you!" Meanwhile, the play attracted the largest summer crowd ever, and no one got a parking ticket when they saw it.

Everyman is a 16th Century morality play that deals with abstract ideals, abstract characters and their abstract bank accounts. It shows how in the afterlife, one can try to bring all their knowledge, faith and credit cards with them, but all that they can really take are their good deeds, and perhaps a change of underwear.

and things that go bump in the night

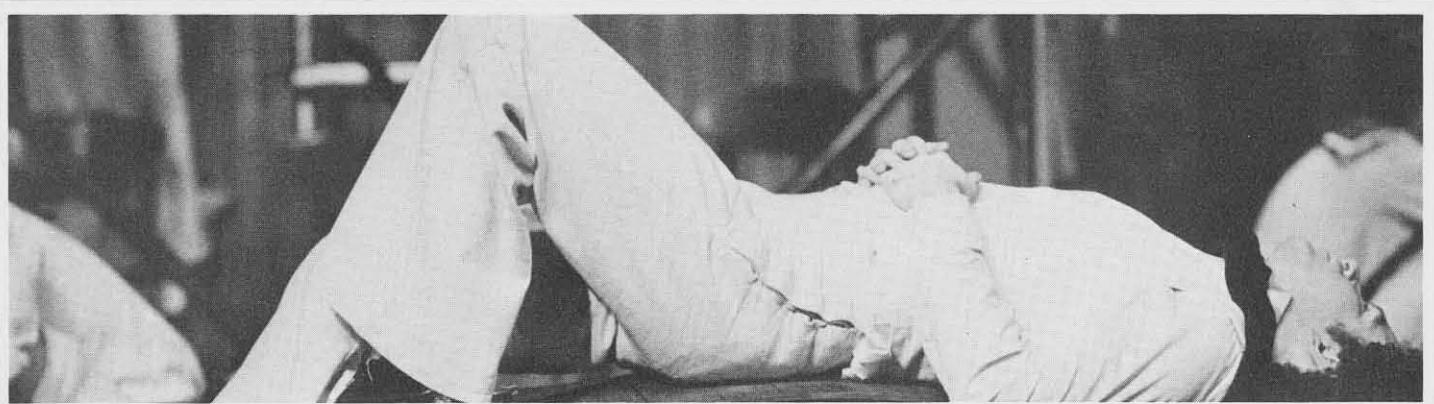

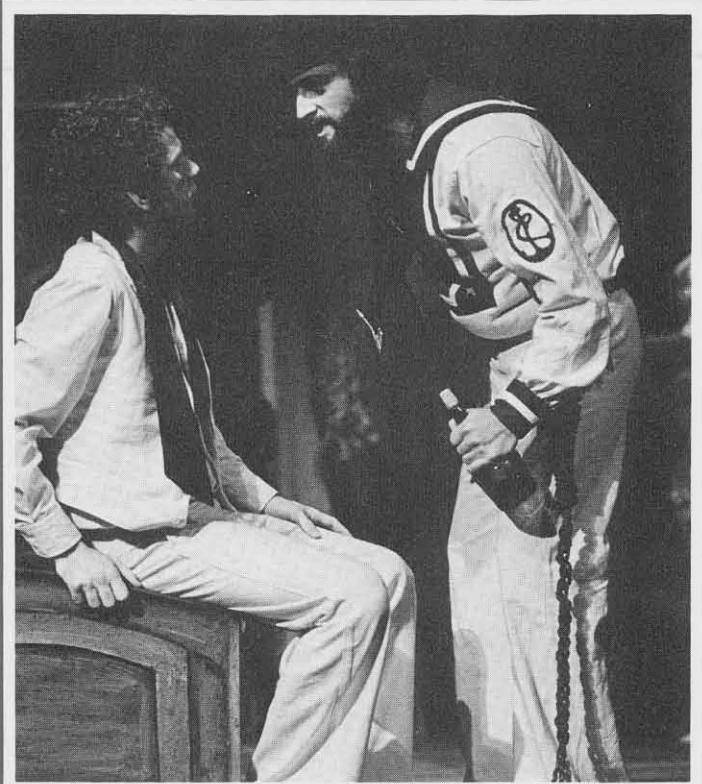

A big publicity drive left many people wondering what "Bump" was. Even after viewing Casting Hall's production of "And Things That Go Bump in the Night," many people were still wondering what it was.

Called a heavy, futuristic, weird and unique psychological drama, "Bump" was about people and their fear of the unknown. Or perhaps it dealt with man's inability to triumph over evil.

At least one knew not to go out too late, or the thing that went bump in the night would get you.

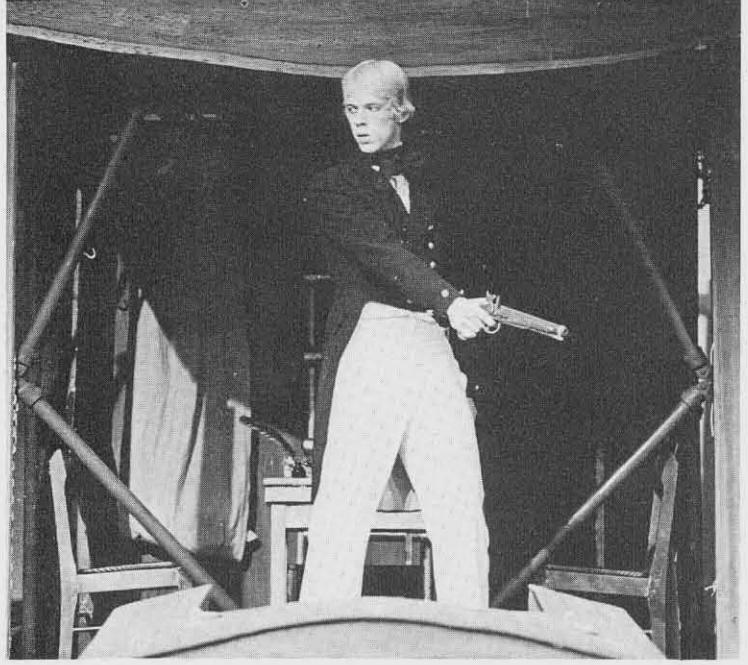

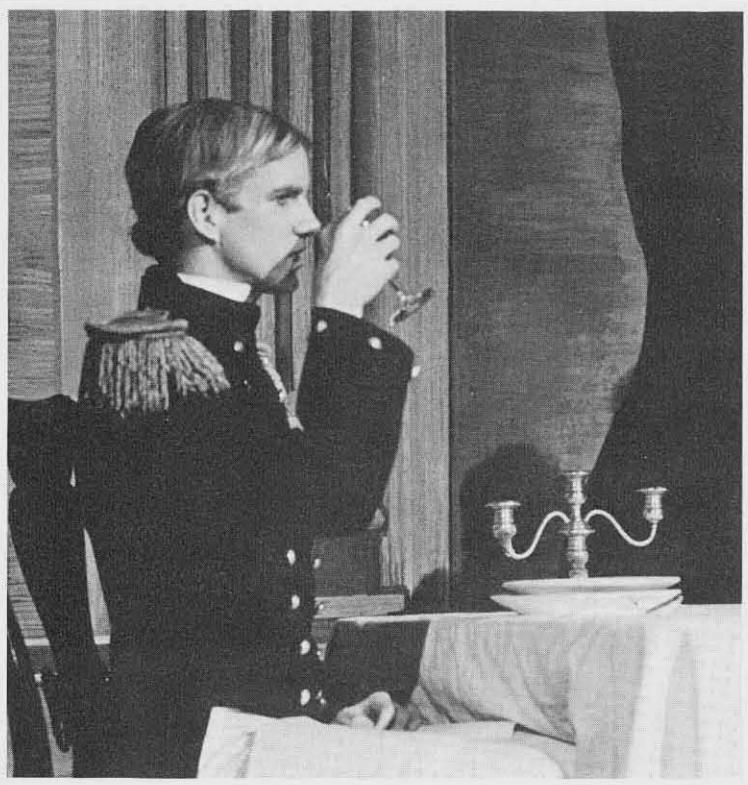

voyage to the first of december

On October 23-27, Casting Hall staged the world premiere production of Henry Carlisle's play, Voyage to the First of December. The play centered around the first mutiny in U.S. Naval history. Midshipman Philip Spencer, son of the Secretary of War at the time, was accused and hung for inciting the attempted mutiny. (Death, incidentally, is one of the worst punishments the Navy gives, and many prefer simply to swab the deck.)

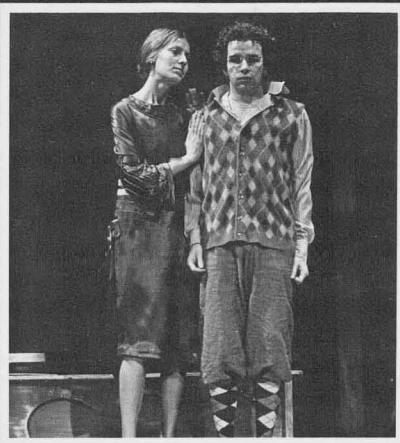

Also sentenced to death with Spencer are Bosun Samuel Cromwell and Seaman Elisha Small. Throughout the play, Spencer continually tried to impress these two with his manliness. They were not impressed.

A critical question in the play is whether or not Spencer was really guilty. Technically, he might have been, but since no one ever took him seriously, he wasn't exactly guilty. Then again, if anyone saw what a wise-ass Spencer was in the play, then all would agree that he deserved to be hung anyway.

The Western New York premiere of the musical The Grass Harp was staged here on February 17-22.

Set in the South in the post Civil War era, the play dealt with a person's desire to express his or her own individuality and how nice it is to share that individuality with someone else.

speiser as lenny bruce

The World of Lenny Bruce, a one man dramatic show starring Frank Speiser came to Buffalo State on September 16. By using some of Bruce's original material as well as recreating many of his gestures and mannerisms, Speiser kept the audience in an almost constant uproar.

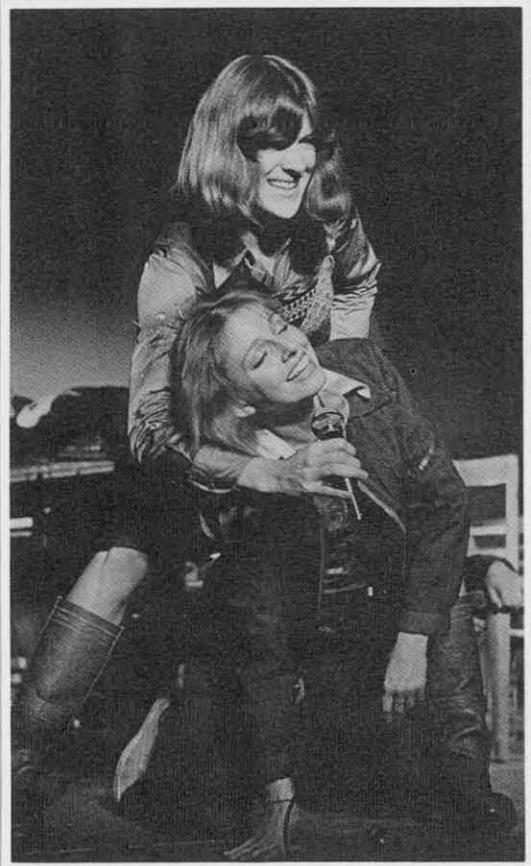

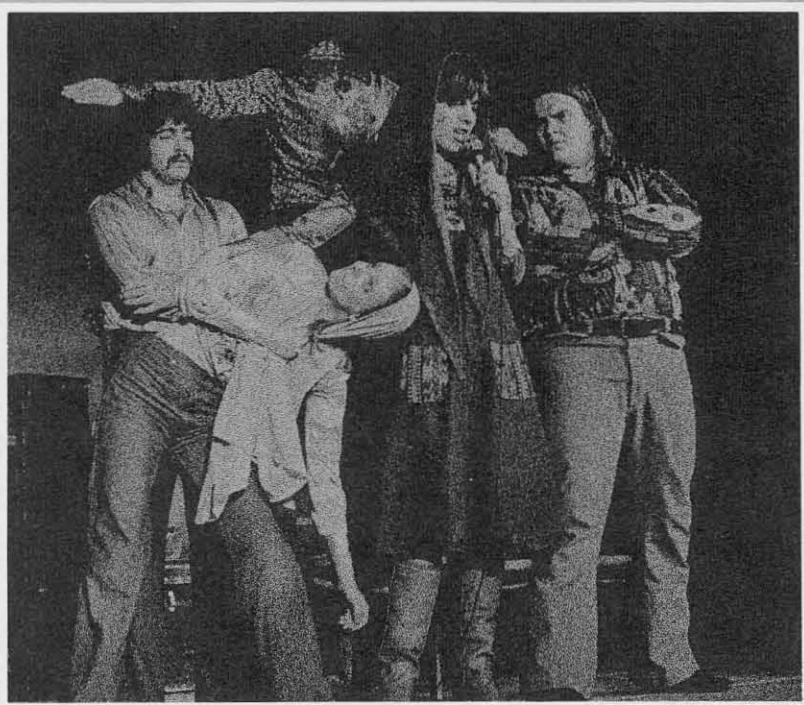

The first part of the play was a typical comedy routine which Bruce might have performed at any night club date. After a five-second intermission, the second half dealt with Bruce waiting to see a tribunal of judges to plead for a reversal of his obscenity conviction. Here, Speiser portrayed exceptionally the mental anguish and emotional turmoil which Bruce felt throughout the legal and personal battles which destroyed his life.

Ralph Waldo Emerson once said, "To be great is to be misunderstood." Lenny Bruce may or may not have been great, and he may or may not have been misunderstood; but he certainly was funny.

Festival Latino is the highly successful weekend of cultural and entertaining exhibits sponsored by the Adelantes Estudiantes Latinos. This year they featured a lecture by Piri Thomas, author of Down These Mean Streets, an Art Exhibition, poetry readings including that of Miguel Pinero, author of the award winning play, "Short Eyes," 2 short plays done by The Young Nuyoricans from New York City and culminated by a Latin dance and disco with the sound of Orquesta Tamba.

Commuter Council is a busy organization providing services for all students. Under the chief instigation of Barney Ruppley (alias Barney Ruppley), Director of Commuter Services, the Council runs the Sub and Soda for $1 program, free coffee during the mornings, and a variety of special events. In addition, they also work on such concerns as the parking problem and dealing with F.S.A.

Contrary to rumor, they do not own the Student Union.

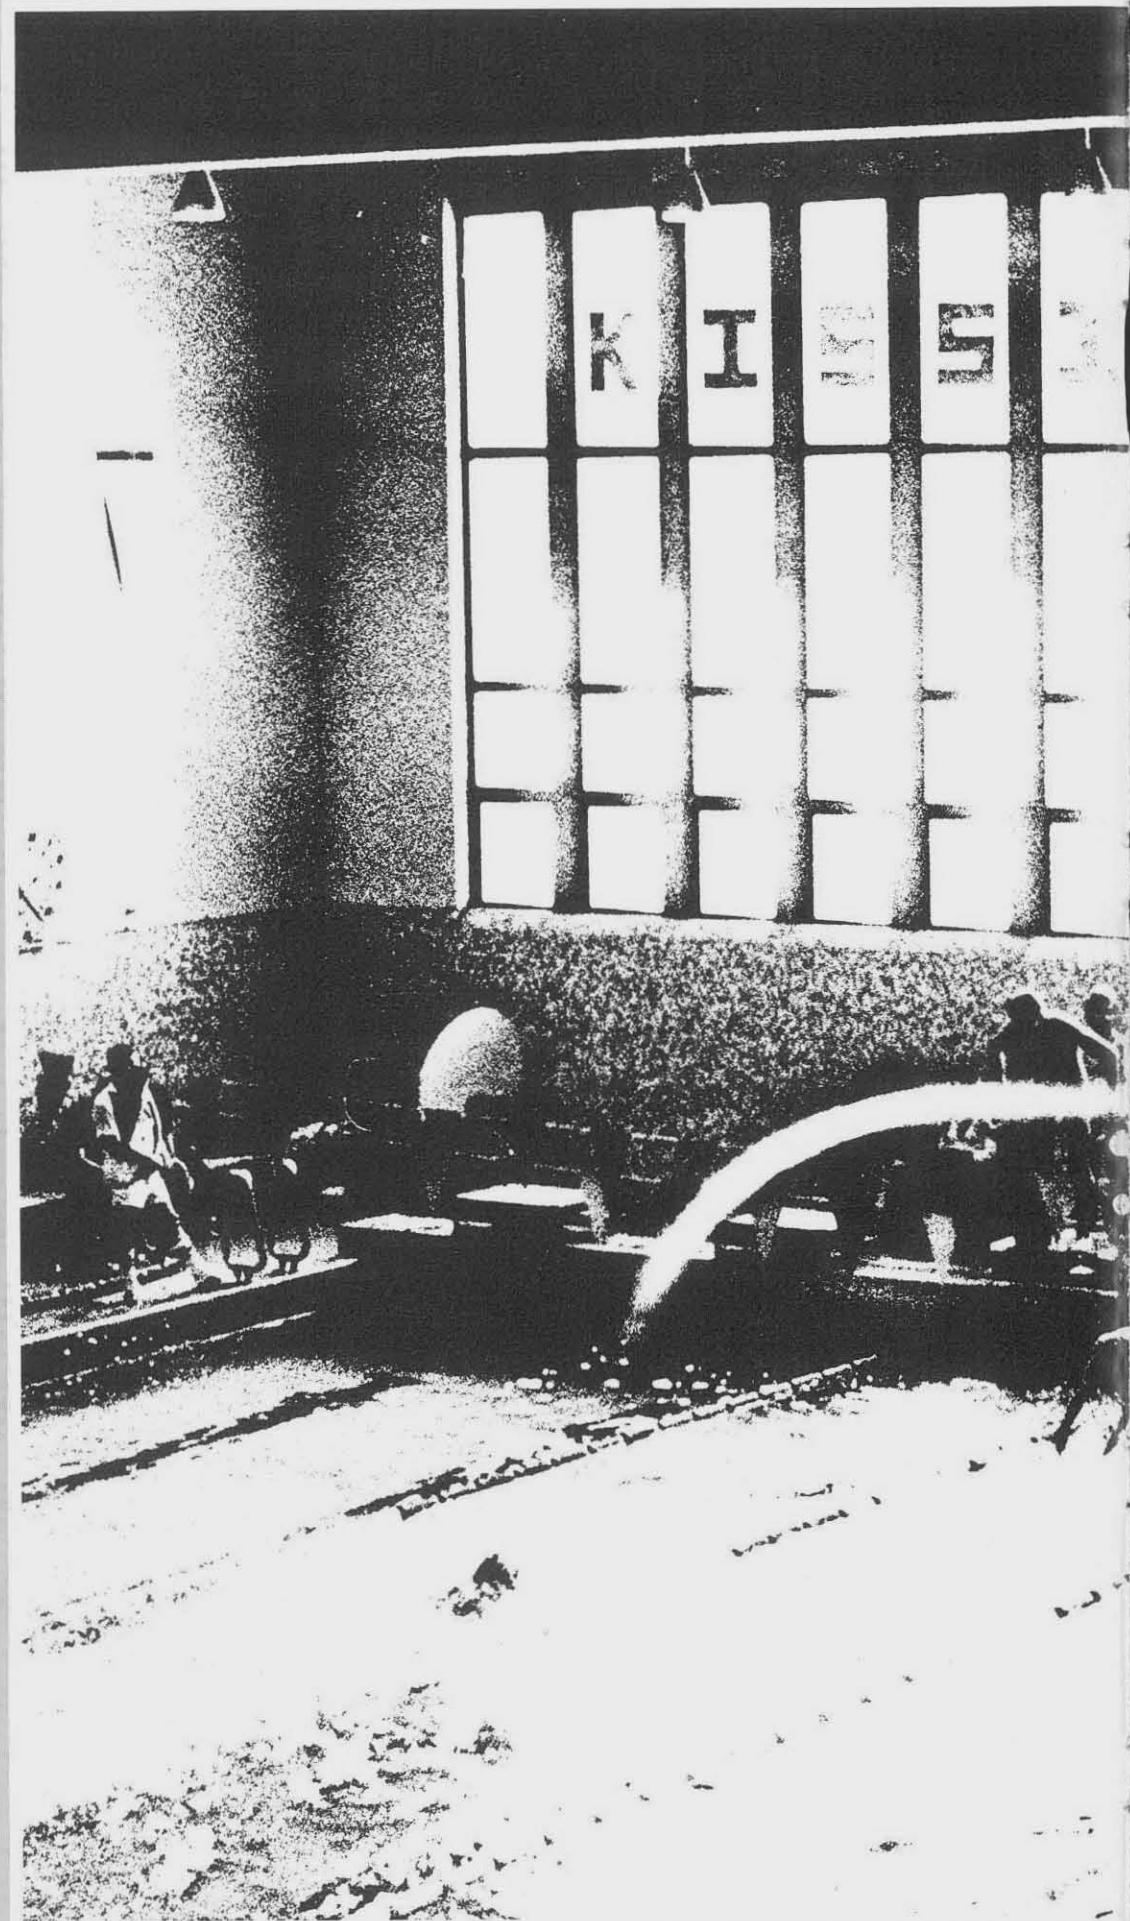

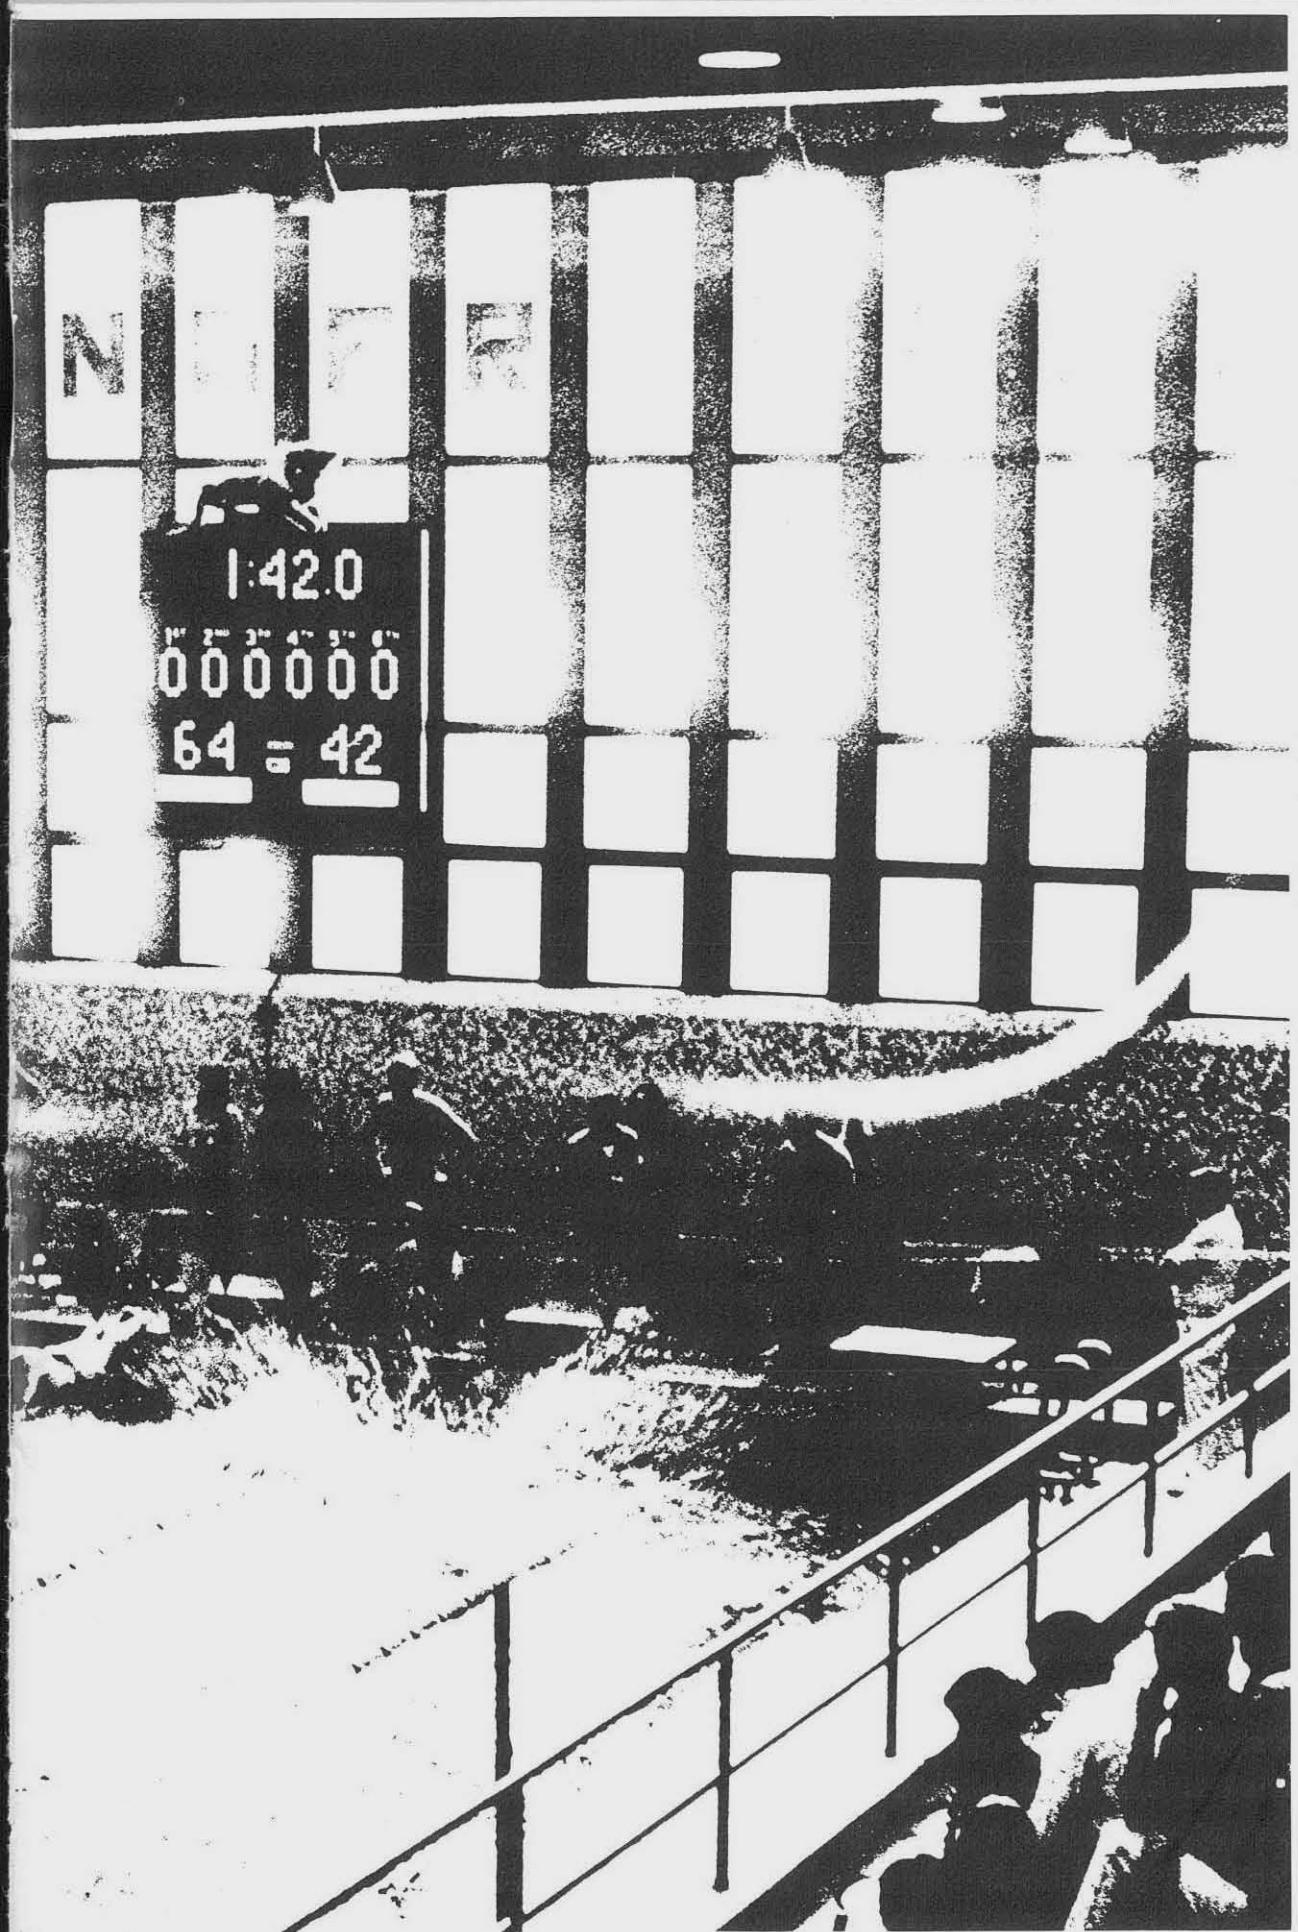

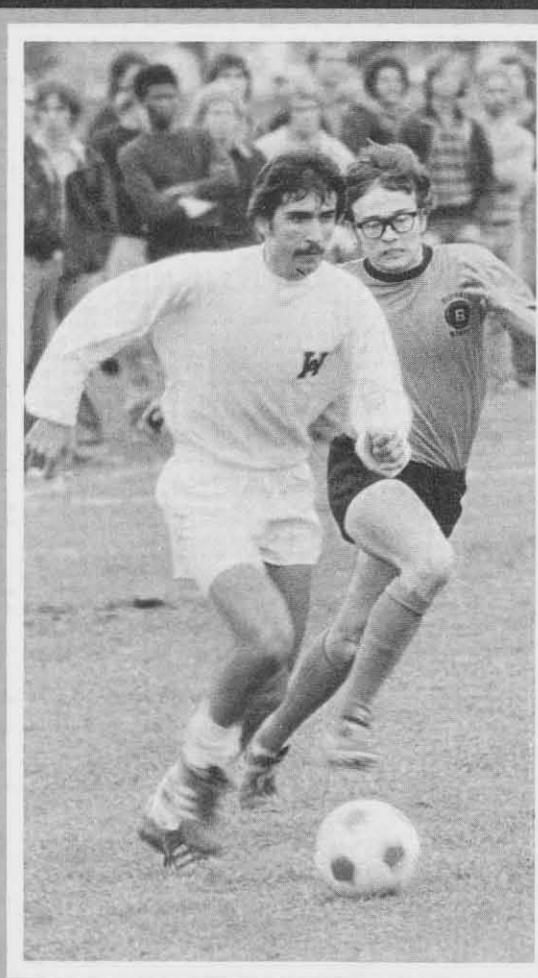

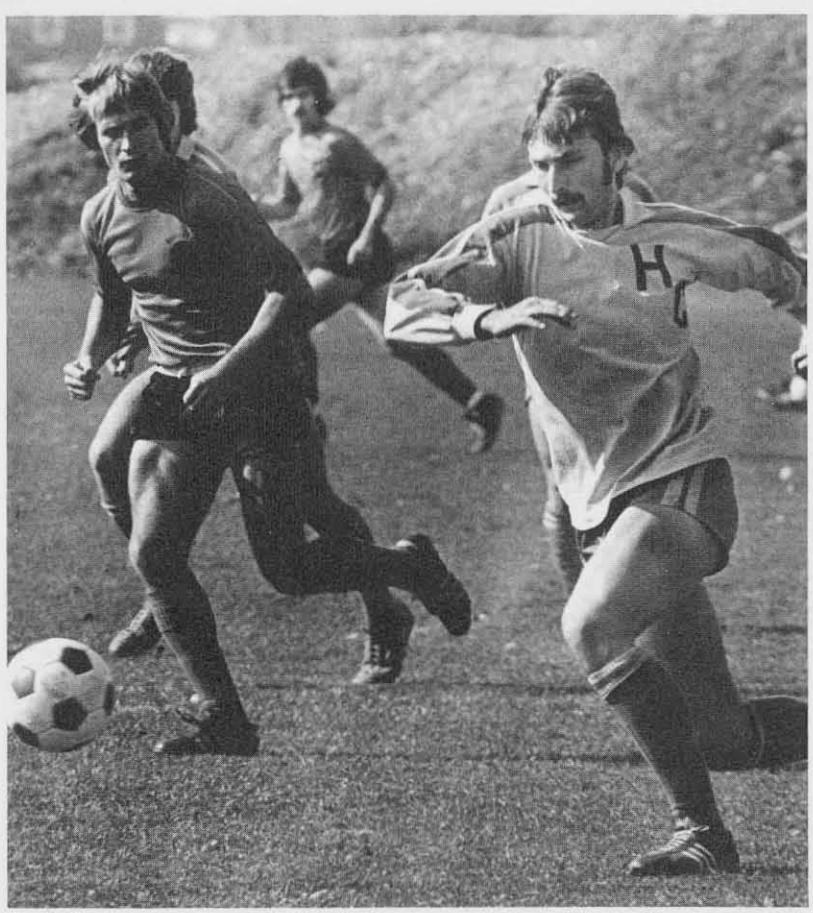

The Record staff puts out the school newspaper entitled, appropriately enough, The Record. They attempt to demonstrate the old axiom that if God were a newspaperman He would truly be worshiped by all. (Though God did indeed suppress certain accounts from the original version of the Bible, we must still remember that He is Omnipotent and like any good reporter, knows absolutely everything.)

In a recap of the 1975-1976 year, the Women's Recreation Association had all of its teams out there fighting to bring glory to Buffalo State's female athletic teams. Under the auspices of Athletic Board, the Association provided a variety of teams including Field Hockey, Fencing and Swimming. Those who have had contact with the Association have said that it provides a worthwhile experience for individuals seeking competitive athletic experiences on an inter-school level.

Field Hockey

The women's field hockey team had a nine game 1975 schedule. Opponents included U.B., Houghton, Oswego, and Brockport. Losing four of six games by one goal and the remaining games ending in a tie proved to be disappointing. Little depth on the forward line resulted in the lack of scoring power, but on the other hand the strong defense kept Buffalo State in contention during the season.

Volleyball

The volleyball teams recorded an even 7-7 record and a second place in the Big Four Championship. As the caliber of competitive volleyball improved throughout the country, Buffalo State has been no exception.

Fencing

The women's varsity fencing team for 1975-1976 was led by the return of All-American and team captain, Rosemary Filk. Team co-captain, Linda Watts, holds the career record for victories by a Buffalo State fencer. Top flight competition, injuries, and inexperienced substitutes made '75-'76 a tough year for touches.

Tennis

The tennis team proved to be winners in 1975. Coming on strong at the end of the season, they captured the Big Four Championship with tournament victories over U.B., Canisius, and Niagara. The 1976 season should prove successful with all team members returning.

Swimming

A new sport emerged for the women this year, competitive swimming. Competing on a club basis, the major objective was to be exposed to a competitive situation, and improve individual times. Both objectives were met. Next year a full schedule is planned and the outlook for success looks bright.

Gymnastics

The '75-'76 season record for the women's gymnastic team was not a winning one, but the gymnasts gained valuable experience. The high caliber of women's intercollegiate gymnastics in the area provided with much keen competition. This was the first year of competition for the entire team. So the future looks bright since all team members are returning.

wra - field hockey, tennis, volleyball, fencing wra - field hockey, tennis, volleyball,

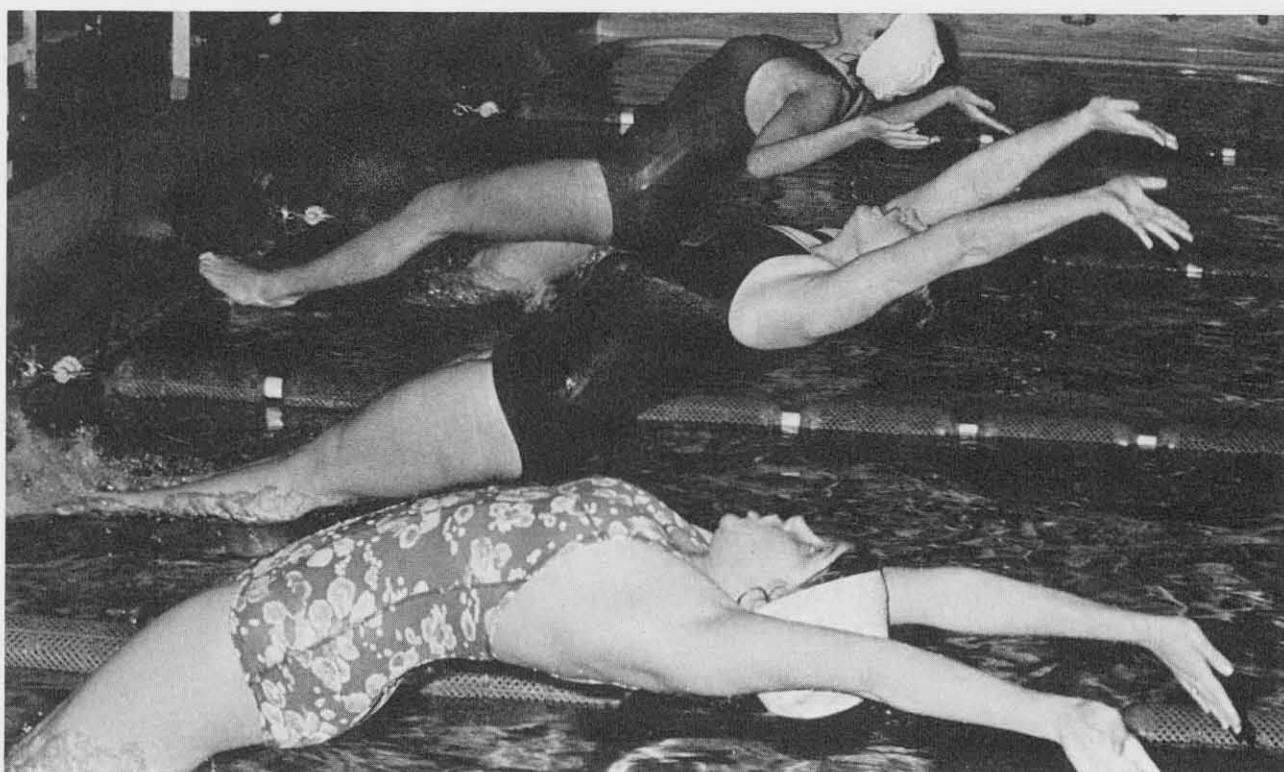

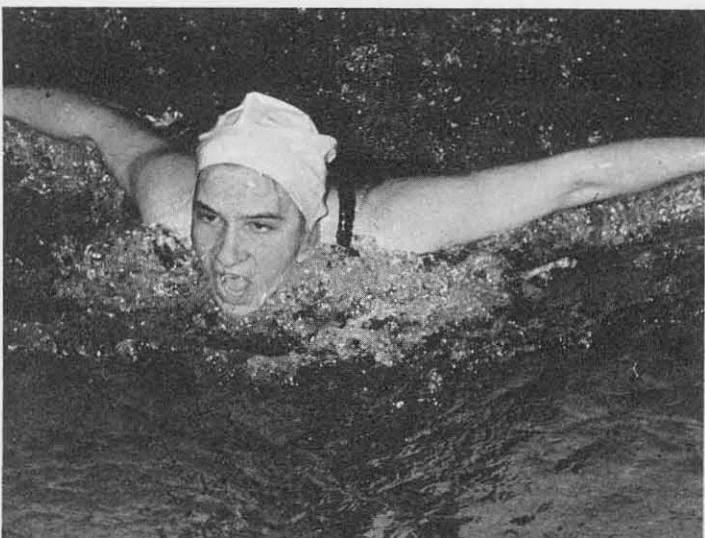

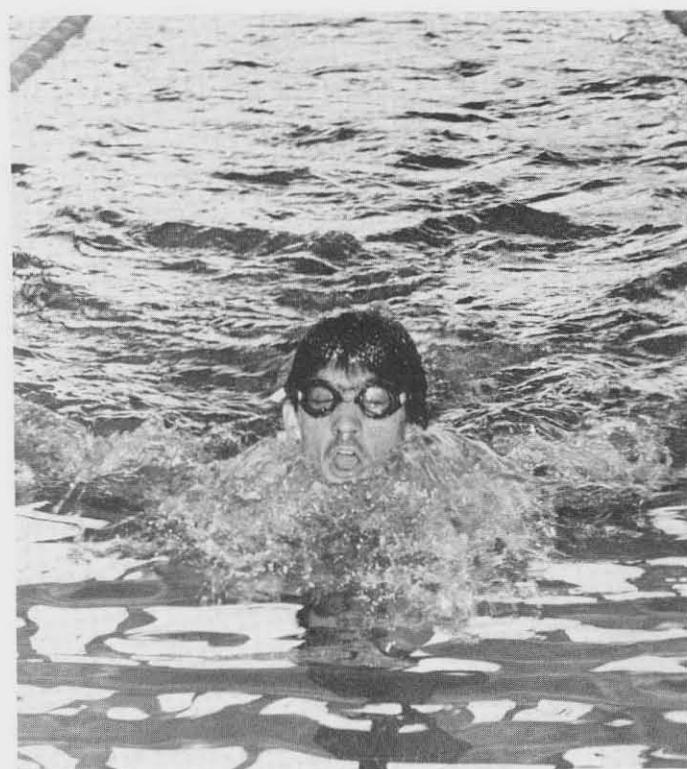

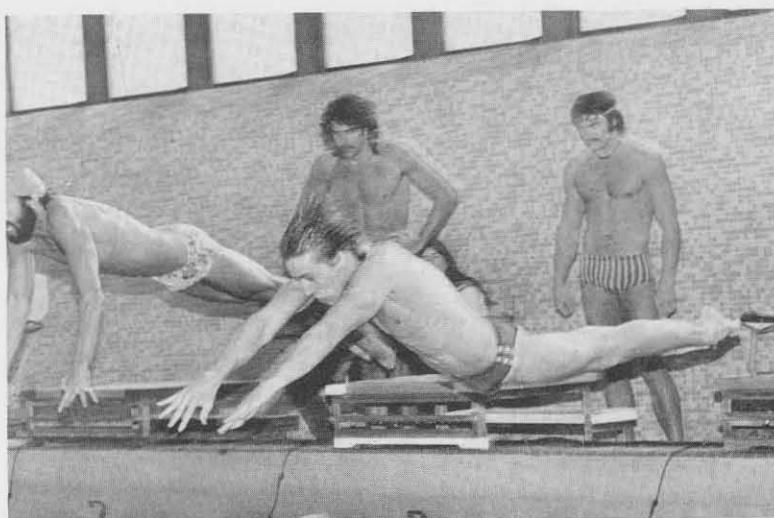

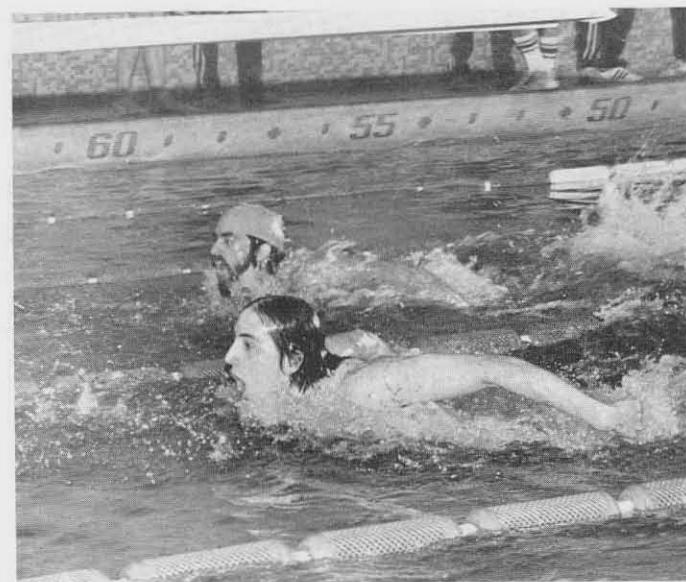

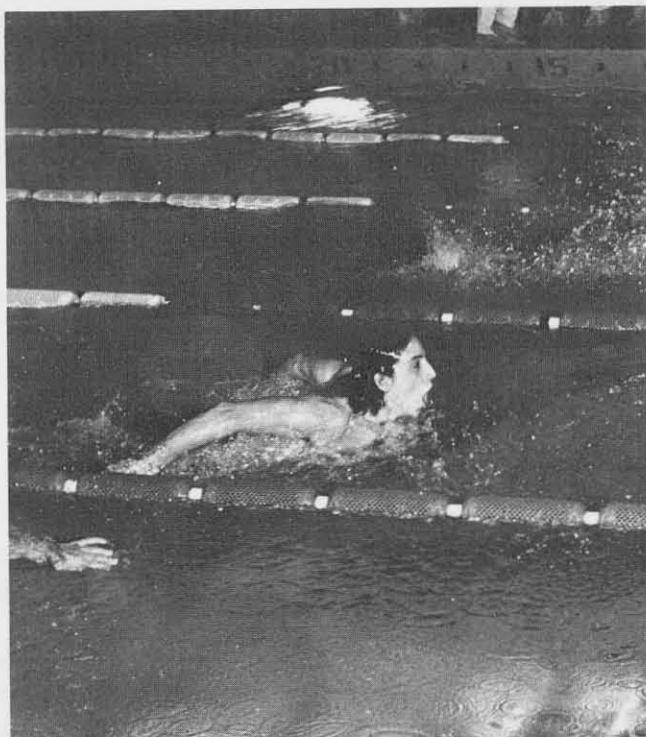

Bowling

The women's bowling team finished the season with a 3-3 record for dual meets and high placing in invitational tournaments, as well as the NYSIAW State tournament. Pat Johnson had high average for the season.

Basketball

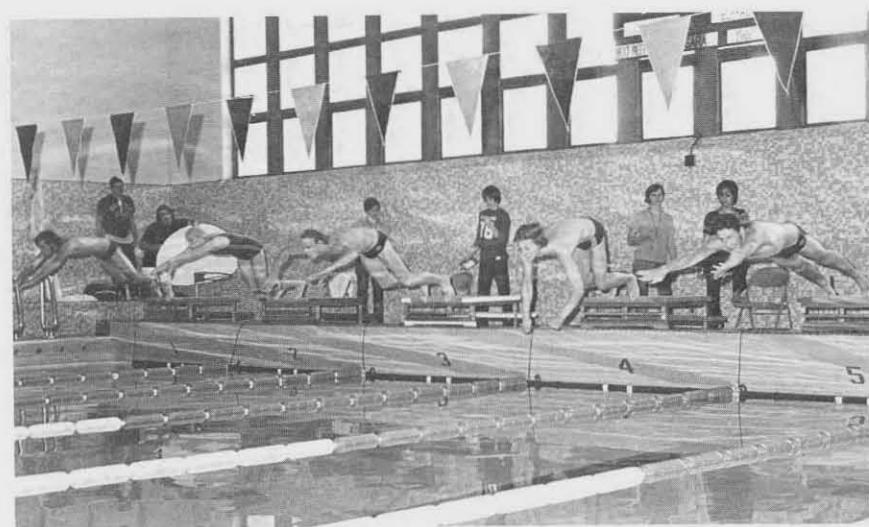

The 1975-1976 Women's Basketball team was the most well balanced team in State History. Having a tough schedule, the young and inexperienced team shows great promise for the future. Coming on strong at the end of the season placed them as first seed in the Big Four Tournament.

home economics club

Home Economics is thriving at Buffalo State College. The students in the Home Economics field show that they are proud of their profession by supporting one of the most active clubs on campus. Our membership this year has soared into the fifties, a far cry from last year.

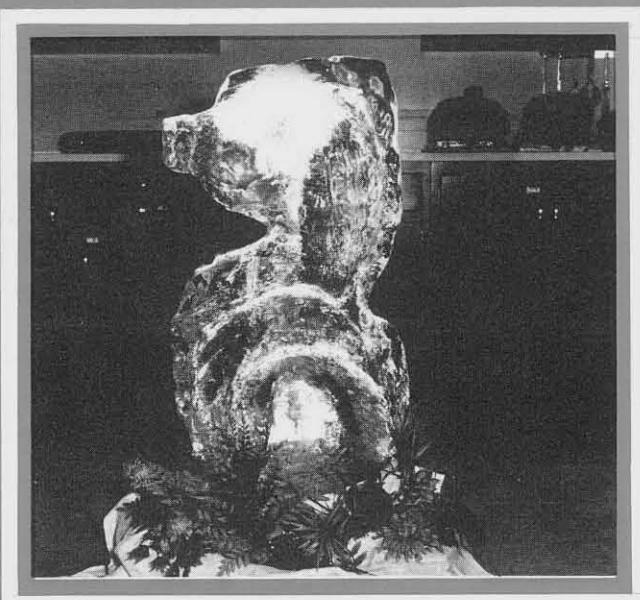

Our guests this year included a manager from the John Powers Modeling Agency, representatives from Co-Operative Extensions, Social Services, meetings with the area high school Home Economics Clubs, and cake decorating demonstrations. Through the club, students were able to attend Western District meetings and meet important women in our field. Our trip to New York City was very exciting and rewarding. Our first speaker this year was from the Dairy Council.

The department at Buffalo State has altered its program and now allows students to have a choice between Home Ec. Education and Home Economics.

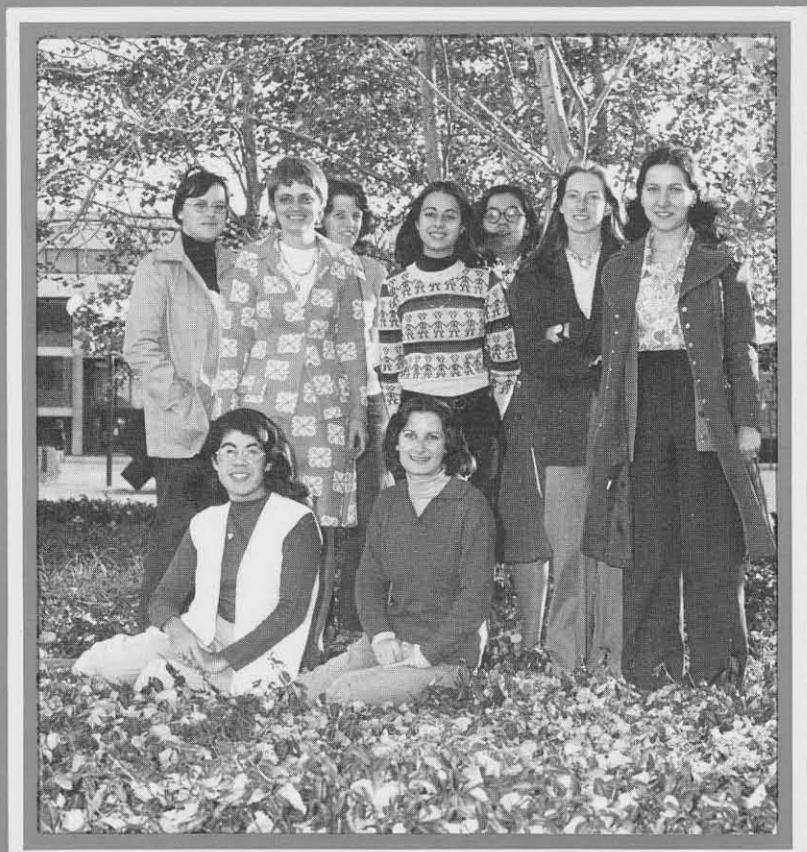

The Home Economics Club is directly related to AHEA, American Home Economics Association. This is one of the twenty largest professional organizations in the United States. Buffalo State College is proud to have such an active Home Economics Club.

SUCB's chemistry club is an organization established to aid students in many aspects of their college life. Largely a social organization successful in relieving "scientific headaches", it programs various activities whose purpose is to join together both the students and faculty from the department.

Through the years it has initiated several programs to aid students with their academic life. It provides a tutoring service available for all chemistry students, scheduled tours to various chemical plants to acquaint the students with the prospective job markets and provides an opportunity for its prospective chemists to join the American Chemical Society. The club is always open to new ideas to represent the interest of its members.

We share ideas, frustrations, and any unguarded lunch bag found in the office. Contrary to rumor, we do not set broken legs.

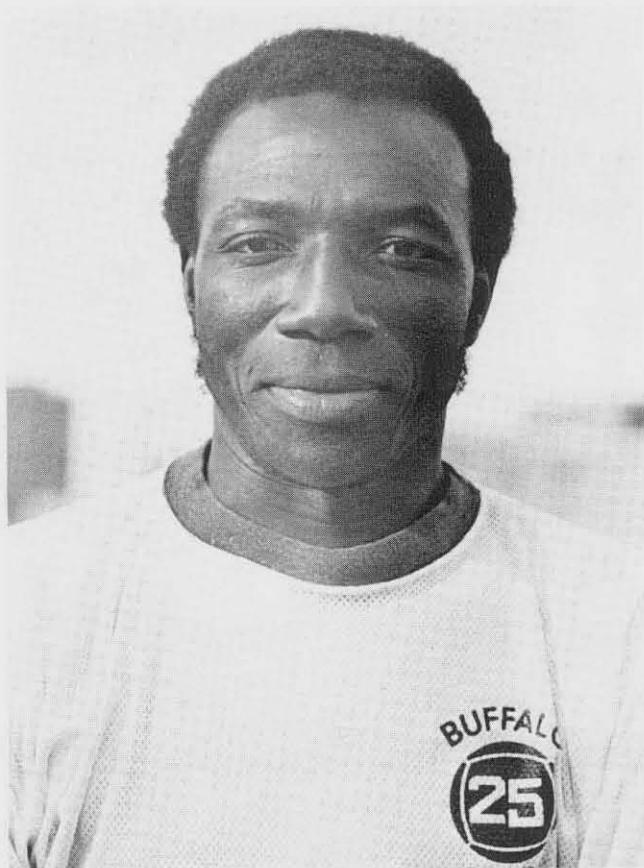

athletics

For about the past thirty-five years or so Buffalo State has been fielding a soccer team. Throughout the years these teams have had various records and has produced All-American players. Players such as Cal Kern, Tom Allen and many others including Randy Smith.

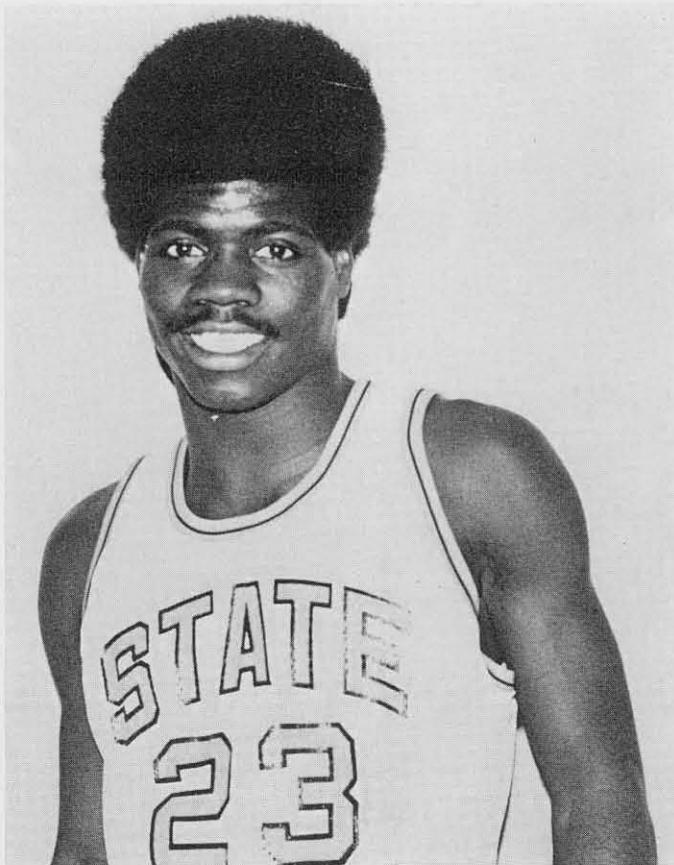

If there was any season that could be considered a disappointment, it was this one. The team started off with two wins and then lost a very well played, key game against Akron. Another reason why this was a disappointing season was because this was the first year of the Big Four in which we finished last.

We hope that when this highly talented team matures in attitude and skills they will play the type of ball they are capable of playing.

kawuta sesay, captain

joe jackson, captain

During the 1974-75 season, the Buffalo State Basketball Bengals had a disappointing year due to injuries and a tough schedule. (Tough schedule: playing teams better than you.)

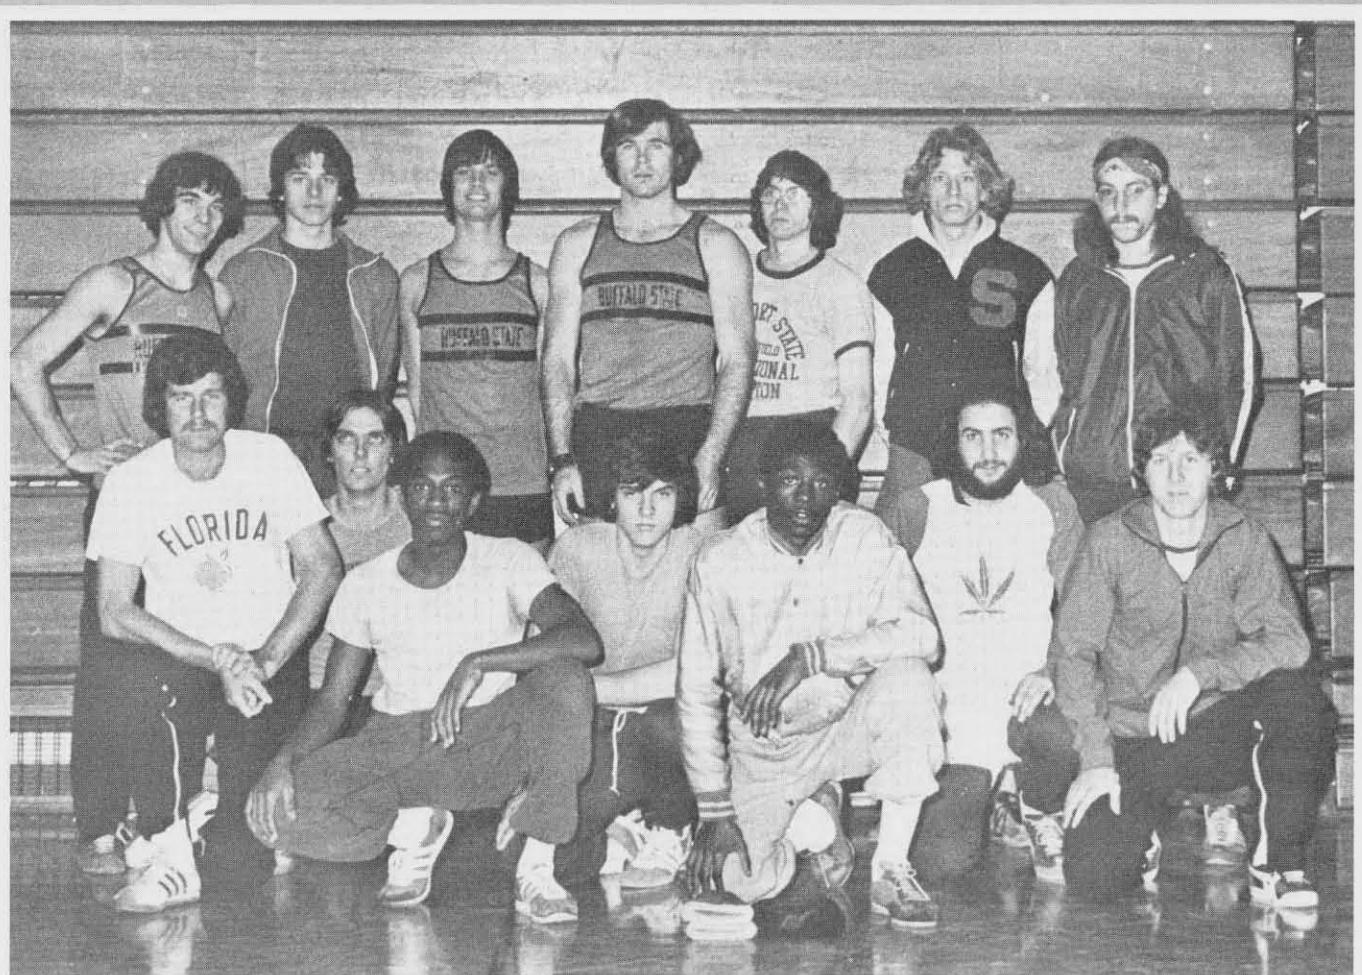

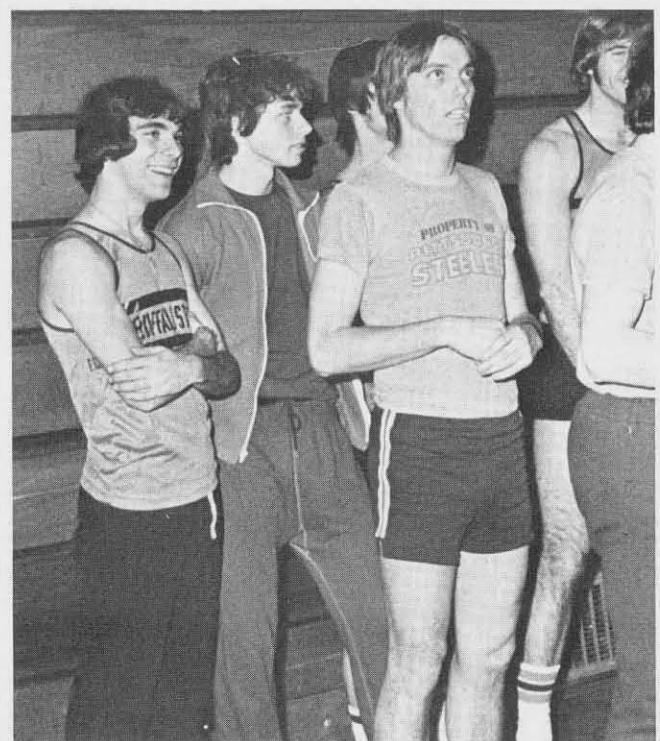

This year, however, they are among the top-ranked schools in NCAA Division II, and have a strong chance to make the play-offs. Great depth among the starters and bench have enabled the Bengals to overcome key injuries and graduations.

row 1: m. machado, assistant coach, b. eison, d. ourlicht, j. jackson, captain, t. borschel, head coach. row 2: b. fitzgerald, r. reese, m. paolotto, h. marshall, a. richardson, j. dougherty. row 3: h. sapp, j. glover, g. miller, o. czmola, c. blunt, j. walton.

Another one of Buffalo State's well balanced athletic teams, the Track team also competes well against both local and regional opponents. In deference to some people on Long Island, track is indeed another difficult sport requiring gruelling practice in events such as running and jumping.

row 1: r. hauck (coach), a. faison, r. brown. row 2: t. hoca, s. la motta, j. o'brien. row 3: g. masterson. row 4: j. bondra, c. merkle, r. bland, j. lewis, g. leigh, t. behr.

Crew

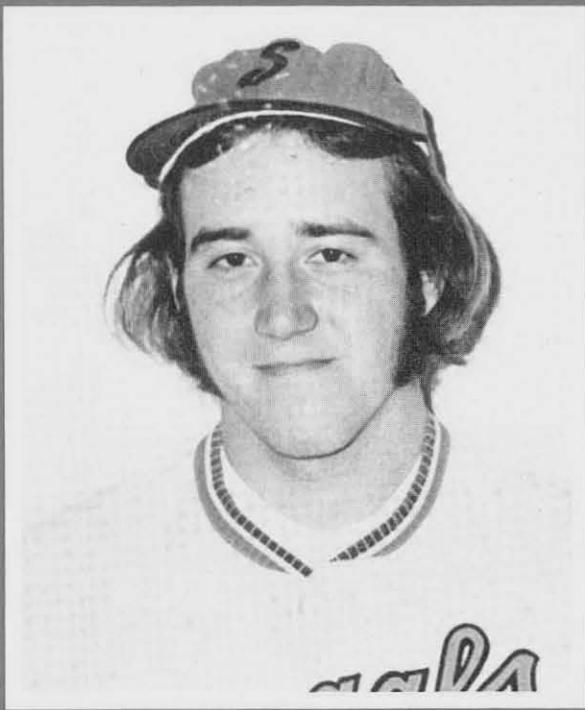

The perennially powerful Bengal Oarsmen look forward to another successful season despite the loss of their clubhouse through a recent fire. In the nine years of existence, they have never had a losing season and have won the New York State Championships three of the last four years against such formidable foes as Fordham, Ithaca, Iona, St. Johns, Canisius, etc. Also, the crew has been ranked nationally in the past few years at the Dad Vail regatta in Philadelphia in the lightweight division placing well against other Colleges and Universities. Good luck to crew this season and we look forward to see the winning tradition kept here at Buffalo State.

row 1: d. fielding, j. grisante, g. ray, d. bloch, k. quackenbush, c. siia, r. robbins. row 2: n. coto, m. hess, b. tevens, e. schwendler, b. timmel, r. barnes, p. shapiro, s. retired, f. mis, j. pinto.

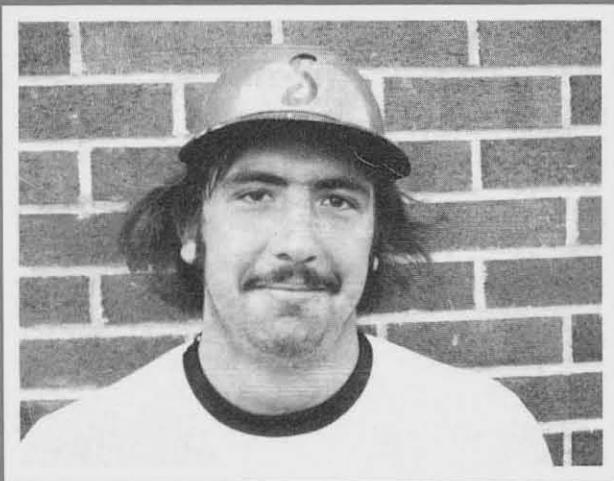

coach brado

d. dziomba

c. kofod

t. sandonato

In his fourth year as head coach of the baseball Bengals, Bob Brado led his team to a consistant finish this fall. A young and inexperienced, but promising squad, the baseball team has a solid core of pitchers and relies on a balanced defense and offense.

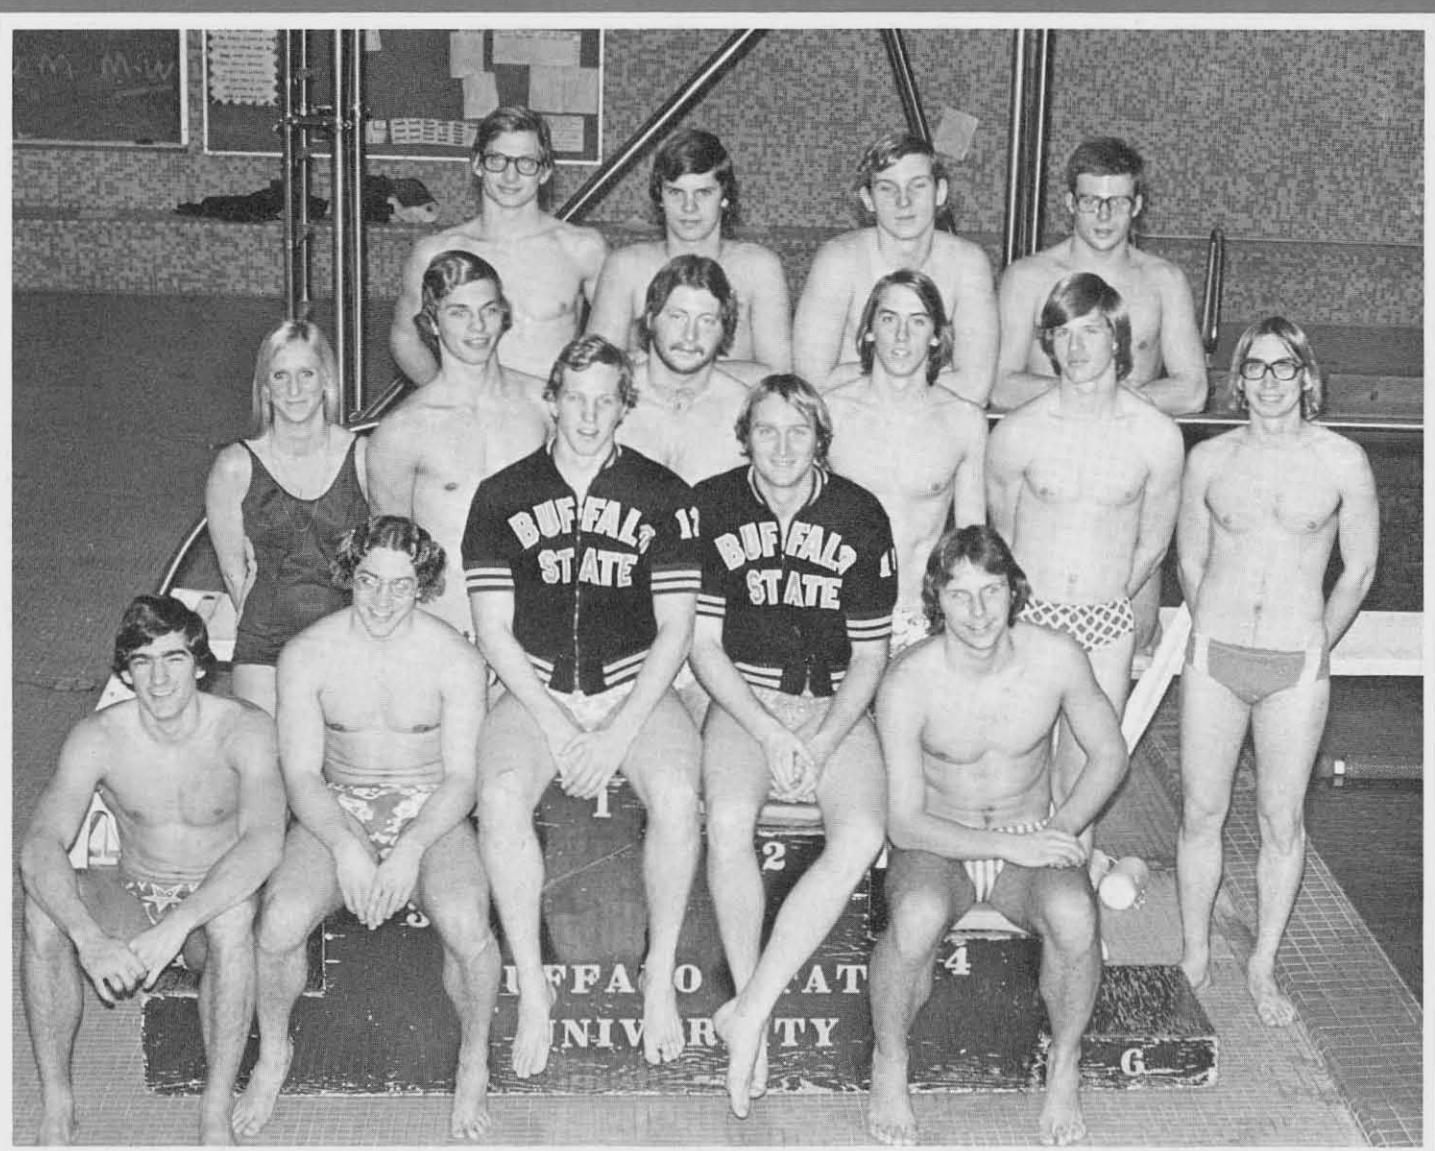

f. brown, jr.

The pride of the Buffalo State Athletic Department, the Swimming team has again been roaring its way through competition en route to another eminent state championship. Under coach Dick Heller, they easily defeat local schools as well as competing nationally for an eventual birth in the finals.

row 1: t. palombo, s. myers, j. totura, b. hirten, j. walzach. row 2: k. keating, c. rung, von capell, j. turner, d. davill, b. keller. row 3: b. biggie, s. larue, m. grabowski, r. scherer.

row 1: a. rielly, d. russo, b. brooks, m. korzekwa, j. kolodziej. row 2: j. montgomery, d. mattison, p. hamlin, k. keating, d. nawrocki.

E. K. Fretwell, President

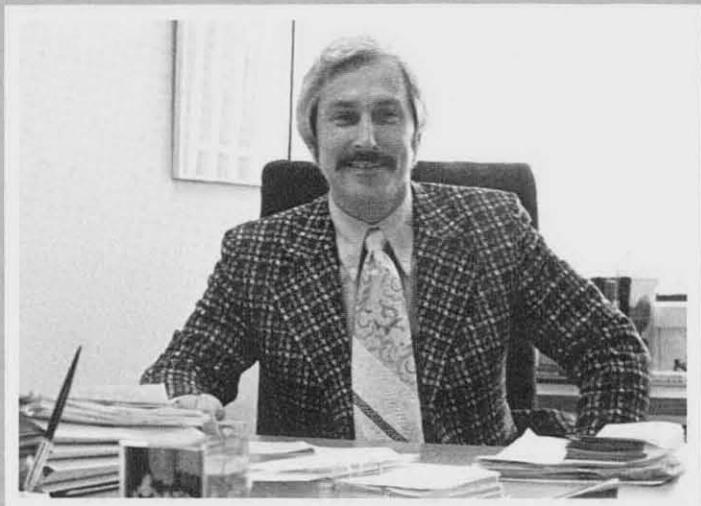

Your college experience at Buffalo State can be the start of a never-ending intellectual journey, even though there may be an occasional detour or delay. The College has helped furnish directions; you must determine your destination.

Open Road, the theme of this year's ELMS, connotes freedom. But no freedom is limitless; there always are some restrictions. To know what freedom is in our society, we need a guide.

What better guide to use than knowledge — from books, from teachings, from experiences, from associations. There is no substitution for improving the quality of life than knowledge used intelligently by educated, compassionate people.

As you travel, it is my hope that the skills you have acquired at Buffalo State will improve, your curiosity will be stimulated, and your intellect nourished.

Keep an open mind as you travel the open road, ignoring the bumps. Say what should be said and do what has to be done.
