Terrance S. Daughtry, Sr.

Terrance Daughtry was born February 20, 1966 to Norma (Roland) and the late Clarence Daughtry at Children's Hospital in Buffalo, NY and was baptized at an early age.

Terry, or "Terry Too", as he was lovingly known by his family, for his great sense of humor, practical jokes, and gift of gab. He spent his early childhood on Beverly Road and was educated in the Buffalo School System.

Terry was the proud father of two sons, Terrance, Jr., Jason Michael, and a daughter, Chance Reign.

In 1985, Terry moved to Seattle, WA and relocated to Los Angeles, CA for a brief period of time. He then returned to the Buffalo area in 2003, and established residence in Cheektowaga, NY. Most recently, he worked in collections and took pride in his family and children.

He leaves to mourn his wife, Myiesha; children, Terrance, Jr., Jason, and Chance; mother Norma; brother Eric (Betty); sister Diane (Nathan) and a host of relatives and friends. Terry was loved by everyone and will be greatly missed by all.

May he rest in peace.

In Loving Memory of Terrance Stephen Daughtry

One Day at a Time

There are two days in every week about which we should not worry, two days which we should be kept free from fear and apprehension.

One of these days is YESTERDAY, with its mistakes and cares, its faults and blunders, its aches and pains. YESTERDAY has passed forever beyond our control.

All the money in the world cannot bring back YESTERDAY. We cannot undo a single act we performed; we cannot erase a single word we said.
YESTERDAY is gone.

The other day we should not worry about is TOMORROW. TOMORROW's sun will rise either in splendor or behind a mask of clouds - but it will rise.

This leaves only one day - TODAY. Any person can fight the battles of just one day.

LET US THEREFORE, LIVE BUT ONE DAY AT A TIME!
